Giant German Dirigible Begins Flight to America

SILVER AIRSHIP EXPECTED IN U. S. HANGAR SUNDAY

Great Craft Is Carrying Crew of 41 and Passenger List of 18, Including One Woman.

"FLAPPER" GORILLA IS MAKING VOYAGE

Dr. Eckener Announces Intention of Flying Further North Than on His First Voyage.

BY MAURITZ H. HALLGREN.
Friedrichshafen, Germany, May 15. (Thursday).—(United News).—The giant dirigible Graf Zeppelin left here in the early light of dawn today on its projected flight to America.

The silver airship, which is the largest flying craft ever built, started on its second trip to Lakehurst, N. J., at 5:54 a. m. (11:57 p. m. E. S. T.). Under favorable conditions it is scheduled to reach its destination sometime Sunday.

There were 18 aboard as passengers on the 5,000-mile trip. There were 41 members of the dirigible's crew under command of Dr. Hugo Eckener and there was a "flapper gorilla" named Susy in a cage aboard the ship.

Weather conditions were excellent for the departure, according to officials of the Zeppelin works, who predicted that the dirigible should arrive at its destination about 9 a. m., eastern standard time, Sunday.

The dirigible was without incident, but it was reported that it might arrive somewhat earlier.

The departure was without incident,
but it was reported that it might
arrive somewhat earlier.

Dr. Eckener's last announcement said he would fly over France tomorrow and later on to London. He said the route would carry the dirigible further north than on its flight to Lakehurst last year. From that point, the commander said, he planned to head directly across the Bay of Biscay for the Azores Islands.

The plans were subject to change, if the dirigible encountered unfavorable weather.

Mrs. Mary Pierce, of New York, was the only woman aboard the Graf Zeppelin.

She booked passage a few hours before the dirigible was first scheduled to depart and later cancelled it. She returned to Friedrichshafen last night and boarded the dirigible with the other passengers.

The dirigible will use leuna gas for fuel rather than blue gas, although the blue gas is lighter. Captain Lehman said leuna gas was planned to be carried. The dirigible's freight weighs 4,000 pounds, the mail weighs 1,000 pounds. Each passenger was permitted 22 pounds of baggage.

The passenger list included Alfred Masury, Maurice Nathan, George N.
Crouse and Frank E. Michelson, all of New York; Sir George Hubert Wilkins, famous explorer; Dr. Gerónimo regias, Madrid; Gregory Curveschich, Paris; Count Soden, Friedrichshafen;
Lieutenant Commander Vincent A.
Clarke, of the United States navy;
three German newspapermen, and German government representatives.

Atlanta's Leaders Urge Forsyth Site For New Terminal

AGREEMENT SEEN ON FARM RELIEF

Conciliation of Differences Over Export Debenture Plan Is Proposed by House Members.

BY W. B. RAGSDALE.
Washington, May 15.—(AP).—The farm relief bill came back to the house today to meet a growing disposition on the part of the leaders to attempt to conciliate the differences that have arisen between the two houses over the export debenture plan inserted by the senate.

While the measure rested on the speaker's table, the leaders called a meeting of the republican steering committee for tomorrow to decide what course would be adopted to deal with the proposal.

Spencer Longworth indicated that, in view of the emergency nature of the legislation, there was a growing desire to accede to the wishes of the senate to send the bill to conference.

In doing so, however, he suggested the probability that a rule would be presented to the house insisting that the senate had invaded the rights of the house to originate revenue legislation, but expressing the decision to waive that point.

The speaker said at the conference tomorrow it would be determined whether the bill would be passed whether the house would refuse to accept the bill and send it back to the senate, or whether the house would insist that the senate had invaded the rights of the house to originate revenue legislation, but expressing the decision to waive that point.

Under such a rule as he described, the house would disagree to the senate amendments to its farm bill, which was minus the export debenture plan, and consent to the conference, pointing out that, although because of the emergency situation it was waiving its right to originate revenue-raising legislation, the action should not be considered as setting a precedent.

Several of the members of the farm group have presented the contention that the constitutional point should be raised, it would plunge the two houses into a long-drawn-out controversy which would delay enactment of farm legislation.

Representative Purnell, of Indiana, a member of the house agriculture committee, appealed today to the house leaders not to adopt this manner of dealing with the proposal. He contended that a much speedier way of disposing of the plan would be to send the measure to conference.

At the same time Representative Aswell, of Louisiana, the ranking democratic member of the agriculture committee, issued a statement in which he said he would oppose the debenture plan in the belief that the president would veto the bill if it came to him with that provision in it.

The Louisiana member and Purnell, probably would be members of the conference committee for the house, along with Chairman Haugen and Representatives Williams, of Illinois, Republican, and Kitchel, of Kentucky, democrat, as the other con-feres.

"That was merely my opinion," he testified in response to a query, after he had denied knowledge of a "slush fund."

He replied in the negative to a committee's query as to his ability to furnish proof of attempted bribery of legislators by representatives of racing or other interests.

"Governor Carlton told me that no man could know or realize the tremendous force or pressure brought to bear on him in these days," the minister said. "But I have had no information from the governor on any matter where bribery was mentioned."

The minister said that he had been "grossly misquoted" in news dispatches which reported him as referring to the "hundreds of thousands of dollars" in racing funds.

After he had testified, Rev. McConnell told newspapermen he remembered his reference in a sermon to the "hundreds of thousands of dollars."

"Did you ever make a reference to such a sum in connection with pending racing legislation?" he was asked.

"Oh, yes, I remember now," he said. "But what I said was that I understood that racing interests claimed that they had that much money to further their interests."

ernacle of Atlanta.

Public Service Hearings Held Here—Opposition to Proposal Centered in Small Group.

DECISION DELAYED BY COMMISSION

Case Under Advisement;
Officials Told Change
Will Benefit Present
Location for Owners.

Testimony overwhelmingly in favor of locating the proposed new union railroad station on the Forsyth street site instead of rebuilding; it on the present site was presented to the state public service commission Wednesday by witness after witness selected from the leading business men of Atlanta when the commission heard the petition of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad for permission to build its station on the Forsyth street property. Only a small group of property owners near the present station appeared to oppose the proposition.

The commission took the case under advisement late Wednesday afternoon.

Witnesses favoring the removal to the new site testified that such a move will be beneficial to the state of Georgia, owner of the Western & Atlantic railroad, now leased by the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis beneficial to the people of Atlanta as a body; that the move will eliminate 90 per cent of the smoke and noise of present traffic through the heart of the city; and that through the removal a site will be left which is certain to be used as a business and warehouse development which will bring a handsome new structure to the city and provide two great storage plants.

President J. B. Hill, of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, and John L. Tye, general counsel, testified in favor of the move.

MINISTER DENIES SLUSH FUND TALK

Jacksonville Minister Ap-

House Group in Racing Bribe Charges.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 15.—(AP).—
Rev. Lincoln McConnell, Jacksonville minister, denied today that he had personal knowledge of alleged attempts of domestic or foreign racing interests to bribe members of the Florida legislature to pass measures permitting racing and gambling.

Rev. McConnell had been subpoenaed by the special house committee investigating cases of alleged jobbusting after he had been quoted as saying that racing interests were "pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars into Tallahassee."

"That was merely my opinion," he testified in response to a query, after he had denied knowledge of a "slush
fund."

He replied in the negative to a committee's query as to his ability

ARCHITECT SOUGHT TO PLAN AIRPORT

Ellis Barrett Will Ask Council for Necessary Funds; AIA Field Would Result From Proposal.

City council will be asked Monday to provide funds necessary to secure the services of an expert airport architect to make a thorough survey of Candler field with a view of putting it into the AIA class or on a par with the best airports in the entire United States, it was announced Wednesday by Councilman Ellis Barrett, chairman of the council aviation committee.

It is planned eventually to construct four runways 2,500 feet in length and 500 feet wide, which would give the field an AIA rating.

Mr. Barrett explained that in view of the large number of requests for space on the field for hangars and manufacturing interests, it was thought best to plan ahead so that the available space might be used to best advantage for the present needs and at the same time to arrange the field to care for future expansion.

The move to improve Candler field was given additional impetus Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of the board of directors of the local chapter of the National Aeronautical association at the chamber of commerce when it was decided to form an airport committee.

Captain Stanford E. Moses was named as chairman of the committee and it is planned that this group will assist in every possible way in the further development of the field.

Two additional committees were formed, one on airport legislation, headed by W. B. Hartsfield, former chairman of the aviation committee of city council, and one on airplane expositions, headed by Gregory C.
Bowden, chairman of the aviation committee of the chamber of commerce.

Henderson Hallman, governor of the N. A. A. for Georgia, made a strong plea for additional airports throughout the state and urged interactive efforts to make the entire state air-minded.

The next regular meeting of the local N. A. A. chapter is scheduled for 12:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon at the Ansley hotel and all people who are in any way interested in aviation in any of its branches are urged to be present at that time.

POISONED CAKE CAUSES ILLNESS OF FAMILY OF 12

Chicago, May 15.—(AP).—A powerful poison placed in flour later used to bake a cake tonight was blamed for the serious condition of 12 people who attended a party at his home Sunday night, after an investigation, branded the presence of poison the flour as a "wholesale attempt at murder."

The stricken persons are relatives and friends of Frank J. Ruchman and attended a party at his home Sunday night, at which ice cream and the home-baked cake were served. All the guests became ill the following day and tonight their condition was said to be critical. The victims range in age from 19 to 74 years.

Police investigators took the package of cake flour and an analysis showed almost a cup of the poison had been placed in the package. No motive for the poisoning has been advanced.

EXTORTION GANG KILLS DETECTIVE

Trap Set for Chicago Gangsters Fails When They Recognize Officer
as Decoy.

Chicago, May 15.—(AP).—Detective
Ray Martin was shot and killed late today in an attempt to trap an extortion gang which had kidnapped Paul Blumenthal, reputed millionaire boot-legger. The slayers escaped under a fusillade of bullets from other officers.

Martin, who resembles Blumenthal's brother, Moses, had arranged to meet his abductors on the west side. He had just left a taxicab to talk with the men in their parked automobile when they evidently recognized him as an officer and opened fire.

Police said two of the men were recognized as Carlos Fontana and Martin O'Leary, the latter a notorious west side character.

Blumenthal was kidnapped May 7 by hoodlums posing as policemen who demanded information about the former's liquor operations. He was later released. The men demanded $50,000 ransom but agreed to accept $15,000 cash and the rest in installments. An additional $10,000 was paid them last week, police said, by Henry Finkelstein, who they say, is a member of the "Bugs" Moran gang, seven of whom were slain in the St. Valentin's Day massacre.

Meanwhile, an anonymous friend of Blumenthal's told police of his predicament and the trap was arranged.

The gang is said to have extorted large sums from other wealthy bootleggers. Blumenthal is reported to have retired with a fortune estimated at $1,000,000.

FOUR-YEAR TERM URGED FOR MAYOR

Longer Office Tenure for Other Officials Will Be Proposed to Georgia Legislature.

Four-year terms for Atlanta's mayors and aldermen and three-year terms for councilmen were advocated Wednesday by a unanimous vote of the charter revision committee of city council and will go to council Monday for approval of that body. If they are sanctioned there and approved by the mayor, the measures will be offered to the Georgia legislature this summer for final passage.

May Succeed Self.
In addition to allowing the mayor to serve four years, the paper affecting his tenure of office also strikes from the present charter a measure which prevents him from succeeding himself more than once and allows him to hold the position as many times as the people of the city elect him.

At the present time, the mayor's term is two years; councilmen serve two years and aldermen three.

Proposal to annex all of landlots 110, 103 and 57 and that portion of landlots 56 and 104, all in the 17th district of Fulton county not now in the city limits, was okayed by the committee.

The proposal if approved, will lie south of Peachtree creek and include virtually all territory included in a line parallel to Anjaco road northward and extending eastward to a few yards west of Piedmont road and southward to the present city limits.

Extend City Limits.
All of the Ansley park golf course now lying in landlots 56 and 57 would be included in the city limits, and the entire Collier estate in landlot 103 also would be included as well as the Brookwood Hills development and Rock Springs.

Members of the committee deferred action on a proposal to create a 13th ward out of the territory recently an-nexed to the ninth ward from the eighth and set 8 o'clock Thursday night, May 23, as the date for a public hearing. It will be held in the city council chamber and Alderman Ed Gilliam, chairman of the charter revision committee invited all those interested to attend.

2 GEORGIA WOMEN INCLUDED IN LIST OF HOSPITAL DEAD

Asphyxiated Die Within Two Minutes After Inhaling Gas; Faces Turn Yellowish Brown.

HORROR RECALLS WAR-TIME SCENES

Hats, Shoes and Purses Abandoned as Sufferers
Vainly Seek Safety—40
Are in Hospital.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 15.—(AP).— Poison gas and two explosions which followed burning of X-ray films in the Cleveland clinic this morning claimed 100 lives.

Tonight hospital authorities worked desperately to administer artificial respiration to 40 more who were overcome. Victims of the disaster were dying at short intervals and physicians sent out appeals for additional oxygen in the fear that the supply in the city might prove insufficient.
Oxygen is declared the only effective means of overcoming the gas burns.

Mrs. C. F. O'Keefe and Miss Louella Schoen, of Rome, Ga., were among the dead in the Cleveland clinic disaster. Identification was made tonight by Miss Schoen's sister, Mrs. J.
P. McGee, of Cleveland.

Both women motored to Cleveland to attend the Metropolitan Opera last week. Mrs. O'Keefe was visiting her daughter, Miss Emma Jane Hanna, and Miss Schoen was a visitor in the home of her sister. Miss Schoen accompanied Mrs. O'Keefe to the clinic this morning and they were believed to have been in the X-ray rooms at the time of the explosion.

Deaths Caused by Gas.
Nearly all the deaths were attributed to the deadly gas which filtered through the four-story brick building slowly at first and then, augmented by a second and greater explosion than the first, rushed up from the basement and cut off escape down the stairs and elevators.

Survivors said those asphyxiated were dead, their faces turning a sickly yellowish brown color, within two minutes after inhaling the gas.

The fumes were given off by fire of undetermined origin which destroyed X-ray films in the basement. Some pharmacists said it was bromine gas, while Dr. William E. Lower, one of the founders of the clinic said it resembled the deadly phosgene gas employed in the world war.

Inside the building firemen found many victims lying in the spot where the blasts found them. Rooms set aside for clinical examinations were occupied by patients and physicians.
Some sat in the chairs of the waiting room, overcome at the first cloud of gas swept from the basement. It

SURVEYS OF FEDERAL BUREAUS TO BE MADE

Hoover Special Commission Will Investigate Veterans, Pensions Boards.

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—A survey of the veterans bureau, the pensions bureau and other federal organizations having to do with government relations with the veterans of all wars is to be undertaken by a special commission set up by direction of President Hoover.

There have been suggestions for the creation of one division of the government to deal with all veterans' matters embracing the veterans bureau, now an independent establishment; the pension bureau, which is administered by the interior department, and the soldiers' homes over the country which are under the direction of a separate commission and other agencies.

One purpose of the study of the president's commission will be determination as to the feasibility of this plan as a part of the scheme of government reorganization.

This work is under the immediate direction of Walter H. Newton, administrative assistant to the president, who is the liaison officer between the chief executive and the heads of the independent commissions and agencies.

ATLANTA AUTOISTS MAY HAVE BRAKES TESTED THIS WEEK

A free brake testing for all motorists of the city will be extended throughout the day and night as a part of Atlanta's "Drive Safely" week, it was announced by the executive committee. The J. L. Carroll company, at Whitehall and Gordon streets, will test all brakes free today. In addition to the free brake tests, the executive committee has authorized several service stations in different sections of the city to cooperate with the public in a free light testing from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock tonight.

Those service stations testing lights through experts of the Westinghouse Lamp company are J. L. Carroll company, Whitehall and Gordon streets; Harbin Tire and Battery, 450 Moreland avenue; Everett Strupper, Inc., 536 Spring street; Sprayberry Service station, Ponce de Leon at Argonne; and Tappan Tire company, at Houston and Ivy streets.

The light tests started Tuesday night and hundreds of motorists took advantage of the offer and had their lights adjusted to shine the right distance in front of an automobile.

The "Drive Safely" week is being sponsored by the Atlanta Safety Council in an effort to reduce the number of traffic accidents on the city streets.

Intensive Campaign in the South Against Fruit Fly Peril Is Planned

The above picture shows the group of plant disease experts from ten southern states, who attended a conference here Wednesday to lay plans for further warfare on the Mediterranean fruit fly. The conference was called by Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the United States bureau of entomology, who led the discussion.

A southwide program to eradicate the Mediterranean fruit fly from the states of Florida and prevent its spread to other states was contemplated Wednesday at a conference here of entomologists and representatives of 10 southern states.

Plans for an intensive campaign of publicity, aimed to impress the gravity of the situation upon all civil authorities, housewives and firms dealing in fruits and produce, were discussed. The fruit fly was described by speakers as a "threat against the foundation of southern agriculture" and an "enemy of commercial progress."

Conditions Serious.

Wednesday's conference, called by Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the United States bureau of entomology and head of the plant quarantine and control administration, and attended by other federal officials, developed that every state in the south is interested in the work of the campaign against the fly. Recognition of the seriousness of conditions confronting orchardist and farmer was expressed by several of those attending, and cooperation in the government's work was promised. Radio, newspapers and civic organizations were indicated by speakers as the principal media through which to spread warnings and calls for assistance, and it was decided to form a committee for the purpose of bringing information before the public in general.

Yeomans Chairman.

Manning S. Yeomans, state entomologist of Georgia, was designated temporary chairman of the conference and presided throughout today's sessions, with Dr. Marlatt leading the discussions.

Besides Mr. Yeomans and Dr. Marlatt, those present included the following: John E. Graf, assistant chief of the U. S. bureau of entomology; Washington; Dr. K. F. Kellerman, associate chief of the U. S. bureau of plant industry; Washington; Harry D. Wilson, commissioner of agriculture of Louisiana; W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture of North Carolina; Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture of Georgia; George Kostal, port fruit inspector of New York, with the plan quarantine and control administration; P. A. VIRGINIA ANTI-SMITH DEMS TO STAY IN FIGHT

Richmond, Va., May 15.—(AP)—Virginia anti-Smith democrats plan to name a state ticket that will undoubtedly be elected in November at their convention in Roanoke, June 18, the anti-Smith central committee of ten announced at the conclusion of a meeting held here today.

Looking toward this ticket, the formal announcement, in writing over the signature of J. Calvin Moss, acting chairman, given out after today's meeting of the committee, earnestly advises "our people to stay out of the August primary, and meanwhile avoid committing yourselves to any candidate," and urges organization "in the most thorough details the independent voters at your own precinct; by constant interviews locate every independent voter; and be ready next November to poll our every vote for our uncontaminated patriotic cause."

"Last fall we patriots of Virginia administered a wonderful tonic for the state's social upbuilding," the statement declares, "convincing the world that the order-loving good women and men of Virginia repudiated the program of leadership of Al Smith-Raskob coterie, who attempted to wed Virginia to the alien wet democracy of foreignized New York and the east."

"We need to vehemently continue our opposition to that group, since they today display every evidence of insistence on their program for our nation and state. Have you any indication that our machine democratic leaders in Virginia have realized their errors of 1928? We have seen not the slightest token."

SLAYER OF CONVICT
HERE IS VINDICATED

Foreman Shoots Negro Who Attacks Guard During Chaingang Revolt.

A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned Wednesday afternoon by a coroner's jury, following its investigation of the slaying of Harold Tate, 21-year-old negro, by the foreman of the South camp, during the aftermath of a mutiny among convicts of the South camp, near Hapeville, Wednesday morning.

Precautions against further trouble from the negro convicts who mutined were taken Wednesday afternoon by county officials. Four negro convicts, believed to be the ringleaders, were heavily shackled and placed in the dungeon, and the others will be properly punished for their part, it was stated.

The trouble started early Wednesday morning when 36 negro convicts refused to go to work. Convicts began to put double shackles on the mutineers, and after a score had thus been treated, the remainder decided to work. According to the report to A. A. Clarke, superintendent of public works, Tate started to attack Deputy Warden E. L. Gorman with an ax while working the Perkins school grounds. Gorman drew his pistol, and the negro began cursing him, whereupon it was decided to send the negro to the camp, it was said. When Tate was placed in an automobile, he snatched a billy out of Gorman's hand and struck the deputy warden with it. During the struggle between Tate and Gorman, Adams ran to Gorman's assistance and shot Tate through the chest.

Tate was serving a four-year sentence for two cases of simple larceny and two of larceny of an automobile. He was sent to the camp on March 12, 1927.

Army of Volunteers Aids In Rescuing Gas Victims

TERRIBLE SCENES IN HOSPITAL DESCRIBED

Cleveland, May 15.—(AP)—An army of volunteers, taking orders from officials and executing them with amazing coordination, performed heroic rescue work in the Cleveland clinic a short time after the blast left its trail of death here today.

Men from all occupations—men in gray and blue business suits, overalls, taxi uniforms, even rags—stood at the back of policemen and helped in taking the injured and dead from the building while it still was filled with death-dealing gases.

Inspector George J. Matowitz, who rushed from Central police station with flying squads, found huge billows of smoke and gas enveloping the structure, and with other police officials he commanded all vehicles in sight as ambulances and then pressed every available man in the vicinity into duty as fast as they volunteered. While delivery trucks, drays, transfer wagons and private automobiles stood ready to take away the dead and injured, butchers, grocers, dentists, sailors, brokers, taxi drivers and clerks, working in small groups under uniformed men, waded through water left by the fire hose, and tore away obstructions as they helped carry on the first rescue work.

Back of the clinic the fence was lined with volunteers, drinking and waiting their call. At a word from a fireman or policeman they plunged in and performed the duty assigned them.

Many of these volunteers, white of face with the horror they met inside the walls of the clinic tomb, could talk but little while they rested from their labors.

One volunteer said, "I never hope to have a look at anything so horrifying again. As far as you could see were bodies, bodies, bodies, down those stairways. It was so terrible, those twisted arms and legs, screaming men and women—bodies and screams."

Firemen, too, made heroic rescues. Hook and ladder company No. 8, battling flames and fumes, went to the top of the building by an 85-foot ladder.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(AP)—Peach growers of Taylor county pooled their ripened Mayflowers today and obtained 400 crates to make the first carlot movement of the season from the fruit belt. The shipper was C. H. Neider, of Reynolds, who is marketing agent for the growers of Taylor county. The car was shipped to William L. Brown & Co., 97 Warren street, New York.

The first carlot shipment this year is far ahead of other seasons. There have been a few scattering crate shipments during the past week.

Another car was placed at The Rock, in Upson county, today and probably will be loaded with Mayflowers tomorrow. Other points nearby ready to make carlot shipments are Fort Valley, Byron and Bradley.

The car that was shipped today was handled to Macon over the southwestern division of the Central of Georgia; to Atlanta over the same railroad, and from Atlanta to Potomac yards over the Southern railway, and from Potomac yards to New York over the Pennsylvania railroad.

An extra fast schedule has been arranged for this movement, it being anticipated that delivery will be made in time for Saturday's market.

The hot weather is expected to start early fruit rapidly, and it is now indicated that the first shipment of Uneedas may be made by May 25, instead of May 25 as had been anticipated.

It was expected that Fort Valley, Byron and Bradley also will ship a car of Mayflowers this week, but more than five cars are expected to move from the belt before Sunday and probably not more than 10 during the coming week. That will wind up the Mayflowers, it is generally believed.

FIRST PEACH SHIPMENT SENT FROM GEORGIA

NOTED FOUNDER OF CLINIC WORKS AS IN WAR DAYS

Cleveland, May 15.—(AP)—Dr. George W. Crile, founder of the Cleveland clinic and nationally known for his goiter operations, worked as he did in World War battlefields where he conceived the idea of the institution, as the victims of the explosions were carried out and treated today.

Crile directed the work of clearing the wrecked interior. Then, after hours of relentless strain, he performed a blood transfusion to save the life of his friend and associate at the clinic, Dr. John Phillips.

Dr. Crile headed the Lakeside hospital unit of the American Medical Corps in France. He had been associated with the hospital for many years when he returned and established the clinic. Some of the best known medical authorities of the country became his colleagues. The institution rapidly gained a reputation, and the Cleveland clinic hospital was built to care for the patients whose cases were diagnosed at the clinic. A type of goiter believed to be fatal was conquered and his reputation was assured.

Dr. Crile was in an operating room in a remote part of the clinic and was unaware of the explosion until several minutes later.

YOUTH RECEIVES 30 DAYS IN JAIL FOR BEATING MAN

Roy McCullough, 19, of 108 West Baker street, was sentenced to 30 days in the city jail and bound over to the city criminal court under a $500 bond, charged with assault and battery, in police court Wednesday afternoon by Recorder Murphy M. Holloway.

McCullough, according to information given in police court, jumped on C. H. McKan, 84, of 1002 North avenue at the intersection of Harris and Williams street, early Wednesday morning and was beating him about the face and head. J. J. Hill, a local truck driver, saw McCullough beating the aged man and pulled him away from McKan, until Call Officers Carroll and Goode were notified and responded to the call.

CITADEL CADETS DECIDE TO END HUNGER STRIKE

Charleston, S. C., May 15.—(AP)—The cadets of the Citadel, state military college, brought their hunger strike to an end at breakfast this morning when hard-boiled eggs were served.

The cadets, who did not touch food at the three meals yesterday in protest to the quality of their ration, took the eggs in their shells as a compromise on the part of the authorities, following the charge that synthetic eggs had been served.

At dinner, there was a feeble attempt to confine the strike when many of the boys thought the menu showed no improvement over former meals. Everybody ate supper tonight, however.

SINCLAIR RENAMED TO OIL COMPANY DIRECTORS BOARD

New York, May 15.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, now serving a jail term in Washington for contempt of the senate, was re-elected to the board of directors of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation today by an overwhelming vote of the stockholders.

The board will select its own chairman for the new term of one year and it was indicated that Mr. Sinclair again would be chosen to that post at the next meeting of the directors.

The shareholders cast 4,368,883 votes for the imprisoned oil man or 9,387 more than they gave other members of the board who were re-elected. When his name was read in alphabetical order on the list of nominees, none of the 50 stockholders at the annual meeting commented.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Atlanta Man Named by Pythians of Georgia as Chancellor.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(AP)—A. E. Rogers, Pelham, was elected grand chancellor at the concluding session of the Knights of Pythias of Georgia at the Hotel Dempsey this afternoon.

Other officers were elected at the same time and the new officers were installed immediately.

L. C. Greer, Atlanta, was elected vice chancellor; Charles C. Wall, Ellaville, grand prelate; W. S. MacFadyen, Savannah, grand master at arms; Charles A. Miller, Sr., Bainbridge, grand inner guard; E. D. Whisnand, Blackshear, grand outer guard; H. C. Norman, Washington, grand master of ceremonies; W. H. Leopold, Savannah, grand keeper of records and seal; Jacob Gagan, Savannah, grand treasurer.

Reports from the committee in charge of the welfare of the Pythians showed "substantial gain during the year." The fund was started last year to widows of members.

The meeting adjourned after the installation of the new officers.

Business routine marked the opening session of the Pythian Sisters in the gold room of the Hotel Dempsey, with Miss Marion E. Woodbury, Augusta, grand chief, presiding.

Lauchon was served for the visiting members by Mrs. Charles E. Turner, of Macon. At the night session a compilation of the work was given by the grand lodge officers. Musical entertainment was provided by Ensign Von Callo, of the Salvation Army, who played a number of musical instruments.

Regret was expressed at the opening session at the absence of Mrs. Mollie V. Keller, Urichville, Ohio, supreme mistress of records and seal, who was prevented from attending on account of illness. Miss Katherine Deiter, Haverhill, Mass., supreme guard, remained with Mrs. Keller.

The session Thursday morning will consist of election of officers and installation. An open meeting at 10 o'clock will be held under the direction of the grand lodge officers.

FIVE YEARS GIVEN TO FLORIDA COINER

Miami, Fla., May 15.—(AP)—Julian Diaz, whose name was linked with former Governor Sidney J. Catts and others in indictments against an alleged counterfeiting ring, pleaded guilty late today to six counts and was sentenced to five years in prison by Judge Halsted L. Ritter in federal court here.

Three of the counts alleged possession of bogus $100 bills with intent to pass them and the other three charged attempt to defraud the government by passing counterfeit $100 bills. Judge Ritter ruled that the five-year sentence on each count may run concurrently and date from February 2, 1929, when Diaz was arrested in Miami.

Madeline Burwell, arrested in Miami with Diaz, has not been arraigned. Catts and others indicted in connection with the same alleged ring, are to be tried at a later session in Tampa.

Rush of Gas Is Described By Survivors at Cleveland

FIRE CHIEF TELLS OF RESCUE EFFORTS

Cleveland, Ohio, May 15.—(AP)—A deadly rush of ammonia bromide gas which cut off the escape of more than 100 persons was described by survivors and rescue workers in the Cleveland clinic disaster today.

Many patients had come to the building, a four-story brick structure, for treatment when X-ray films in a laboratory in the basement became ignited. There was an explosion, and as the fire alarm was turned in occupants of the building began a rush for exits.

Many were trapped in the rear of the building by the fumes, which filled the stairway almost at once, and the largest portion of the death toll was from among these. Others, in wheel chairs or helpless to move, were forced to watch the poisonous gas rush up out of shafts and into the open interior of the building from which the upper office floors open into balconies.

Saw Huddled Groups. Fire Chief James H. Flynn, the first of the rescue workers to arrive, was forced to take his men up on the roof. He looked down through a skylight over the front stairway and saw a huddled group of unconscious men and women.

"I looked for signs of life and I saw one man struggling," Flynn said. The chief ordered himself lowered through the skylight by a rope and groped for the man, later found to be Dr. J. L. Locke. Flynn seized the doctor and they were brought out on the roof. The doctor was the first man to be taken from the building. Sixteen were in the group which Flynn discovered, and all were carried out.

Edward Critchley, electrician, was outside at the time the fire alarm was turned in. He said that for 15 minutes it was impossible to move about without gas masks. He told of an unidentified stenographer who was instantly killed, while sitting across a desk from her a doctor escaped unhurt.

Stairway Littered. Splashes of blood were found in several parts of the building. The stairway, where 16 of them were trapped, was littered with women's shoes and hats.

For hours after the tragically gas fumes lingered in the building. Chief Flynn said the second and major explosion occurred after he had reached the scene. Several persons were killed in this blast, which, while occurring in the basement, caused so strong a suction that the skylights on the top floor were broken.

ers in the front of the building were stretched along the stairs.

The rescuers found evidences of the suddenness with which disaster came on every hand. Hats, shoes and purses were scattered about, abandoned in flight.

Surgical equipment lay ready for use in the examining rooms. In the X-ray developing room a roll of film was stretched to dry. A stenographer's half finished letter was found in an office.

Everything was abandoned as the victims realized too late that the brown fumes carried death.

Most of them were able to make an attempt to save themselves. No bed patients were kept in the clinic and many of those there had appeared for medical examinations, were able to attempt escape, but so sudden was the catastrophe that none had time to reach the open air and safety.

Emergency provisions were made at the hospitals and as these became overflowed, a residence near the clinic was made into a temporary first aid station. Cots were set in halls at Mount Sinai hospital and as fast as the victims succumbed they were received from the oncoming line of ambulances. The known dead were

Curious Throng Clinic; Stricken Ones Identify Dead

SCENE OF TRAGEDY SHIFTS TO MORGUE

Cleveland, May 15.—(AP)—Curious throngs tonight milled about the Cleveland clinic, scene of an explosion and fire which snuffed out the lives of more than four-score people—but they were only curious. The real scene of the tragedy had shifted to the county morgue, a somber two-story building facing on Lake Erie in another part of town.

There, shortly before the dinner hour, 84 bodies, laid out in three and four, awaited identification.

In the middle of the afternoon long lines formed on Lakeside avenue awaiting admittance and police with difficulty restrained anxious relatives and friends seeking news.

Mothers and wives, tear-stained faces showing their anxiety, men bravely trying to bear up and children only barely realizing the tragedy milled around awaiting permission to enter.

At length the morgue attendants had done their work, and the lines formed for admittance into the building.

A force of policemen and detectives allowed only those to enter who could storage room were jarred but not injured.

Hope Is Abandoned.
Some of those given oxygen immediately after their removal were expected to live. Hope was despaired for others where the noxious poison had destroyed the membranes of the lungs.

One policeman described the scene as worse than his experiences in the World War. He had carried out 25 bodies, he said. Dr. Carl Helwig, an interne at another hospital, went to Mt. Sinai hospital to aid in resuscitation, and came upon his wife, who had gone to the clinic for examination. She died as he worked to save her.

Louis Sobul, whose appointment was cancelled, walked from the structure an instant before the double explosions. Sobul said he turned to see victims with their clothes torn away, fighting at the windows for air.

The Cleveland clinic was established by Dr. Crile a few years ago and rapidly rose to a place of prominence in the city's medical centers. The surgeon, noted for his operations for goitre, associated himself with other physicians in the Cleveland Clinic Foundation and in 1924 a hospital was built for the care of patients.

Official inquiry into the causes of the blast was started immediately after the bodies had been cleared away.

Inquest Is Planned.
Coroner A. J. Pearce prepared plans for an inquest as fire department officials attempted to learn the origin of the fire.

It was ironic that the disaster occurred in the very place where the most advanced instruments and laboratories of science had been turned against pain and death. The clinic was owned principally by Dr. George W. Crile, nationally known physician, who was too occupied with relief work to comment on the catastrophe.

Despite the heavy loss of life, firemen estimated the property damage at only $50,000.

The first explosion came when X-ray films stored in the basement caught fire, releasing deadly fumes. The fumes penetrated to the waiting room on the floor above.

The hollow center of the building soon filled with gas as the intense heat below sent the fumes swirling upward. Before anyone had opportunity to escape, a second blast blew out the skylight and filled every corner of the building with the deadly bromine gas.

Gas Mows Down Victims.
Occupants had no way of escape but the windows, and few were able to reach them. These were enveloped in the fumes which hung about the building and they collapsed.

The two street entrances were choked, and the stairways leading to the roof were heavy with the fumes. Every piece of fire apparatus available was centered at the clinic and every vehicle possible was commandeered to remove the bodies. An hour and a half later all had been taken to nearby hospitals.

The first blast was heard by Policeman Henry Thorpe, walking two blocks away. He immediately turned in an alarm and ran to the building at Euclid avenue and Ninety-third street.

A block away he was blinded by the fire. The first firemen to arrive found a second alarm and police, hospital and county morgue ambulances were concentrated about the building.

Find 16 Bodies.
Battalion Fire Chief James P. Flynn, with his driver, Louis Hillenbrand, was the first to enter the building. They reached the roof and chopped a hole leading to a stairway, they dropped a ladder to the fourth floor landing. Below they found 16 bodies, one a doctor and another a nurse, strewn along the staircase.

The physician, Dr. J. L. Locke, appeared to be alive and was taken out first. He was revived. Five of the others were taken to the roof and carried down ladders as arriving fire-

In groups of five or six, they went in, flanked on either side by policemen. The grim business of identification led the small parties on a circuitous path through the morgue and out a rear door.

No words were spoken except by those of the attendants handling the crowds. A hoarse word by an officer that "those covered already have been identified" broke harshly into the uncanny quiet of the place.

Ended Search.

Here and there a sob or a scream gave evidence that the end of the search had been reached for some relative or friend. A cover was pulled up by an attendant, a notation was made on a blank—and the lines moved.

Outside, in an alley giving access to the rear of the morgue, half a dozen ambulances stood unoccupied, their work of bringing the victims of the blast to the morgue completed. Others, with drawn curtains, pulled away at intervals, their work was just beginning.

Across the alleyway, in an apartment house, curious crowds gathered in the windows.

men battered in windows to reach those inside.

Ambulances and taxicabs were used to take them to hospitals. Dr. George W. Crile, head of the clinic, gave orders that all victims be taken to the closest source of oxygen, their only hope of life.

Some were taken to the Cleveland Clinic hospital, adjoining the Clinic building. The others were taken to Mount Sinai, Huron Road and charity hospitals.

Emergency equipment was set up outside the building as the fumes lifted and permitted rescuers to work in safety. Police lines were thrown about the district to regulate traffic and hold in check a crowd of several thousand onlookers.

Doctors said they were baffled by the poisonous quality of the gas that took so many lives. Although pharmacists called it bromine gas, doctors said they thought it might be a form of a nitric gas.

Dr. John C. Phillips, one of the founders of the clinic, was among the city's medical centers. The surgeon of oxygen were used in efforts to save his life but doctors said he probably would die before morning.

Many other deaths also were expected during the night.

City officials established a special bureau of information tonight at Mt. Sinai hospital for the benefit of relatives of the dead and injured, and arrangements were made to broadcast additional information of the disaster by radio through station WTAM.

Frantic scenes were enacted at neighboring hospitals today after streams of ambulances began taking victims away from the Cleveland clinic.

It was impossible to find space in wards and rooms for cots at Mt. Sinai hospital. Cots were hastily placed in the hallways and desperate efforts were made to cut down the growing death list.

Even janitors and scrubwomen were pressed into service to help apply artificial respiration to victims or treat them for burns to supplement the frantic efforts of available doctor, nurse and intern.

A priest went from cot to cot giving unction to those who appeared dying.

Le scenes took place at Huron Road, Charity and Cleveland Clinic hospitals. The Cleveland Clinic hospital is nearby the Cleveland clinic, a separate building.

So deadly was the gas generated in the explosion that many victims died on their way to hospitals or after they had been taken to hospitals. It was impossible to administer first aid and artificial administration quickly enough to all the sufferers although nurses and assistants were summoned wherever available from hospitals throughout the city.

Police had to battle with fear-ridden relatives who were among the throngs who gathered outside the county morgue, where many of the bodies of the dead were taken at once.

After the disaster frantic relatives sought vainly to learn the fate of their loved ones.

NAMES ANOTHER WOMAN IN PLEA FOR HER DIVORCE

Paris, May 15.—(AP)—Madame Coty, wife of the perfumer and newspaper owner, filed suit for divorce today here, alleging another woman has supplanted her in her husband's affections. In the complaint the name is given "Joseph Francois Spotorno, called 'Coty.'"

SARGON BROUGHT HER HEALTH AND A 9-POUND GAIN

"I Have Found the Right Medicine at Last," Gratefully Declares Gordon Street Woman.

"I wouldn't take anything in the world for what Sargon has done for me. I have gained nine pounds from this remarkable medicine and haven't enjoyed such wonderful health in over a year."

MRS. RAY BROWN.

"My whole system has been in a disordered and run-down condition. Everything I ate seemed to ferment in my stomach and cause a bloated feeling clear up around my heart that made it palpitate until I would really get frightened. Sometimes I would wake from a sound sleep, feeling like my breath was being cut off, and I would have to get up and walk the floor to keep from smothering. I cut a lot of things off my diet but still had to be taking soda all the time to get a little temporary relief. My kidneys bothered me too and I had sharp pains in the small of my back. Constipation brought on headaches and dizzy spells, and I had to take a laxative every few nights. I became nervous and irritable and felt so tired and weak that it would be a drag for me to do my housework. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good until a friend of mine advised me to try Sargon."

"I hadn't taken a half a dozen doses of Sargon before I knew that I had at last found the right medicine to put me back in good health. Every day I could notice a big improvement in my condition and now nothing I eat seems to disagree with me. I sleep like a child, for I don't have those bad smothering spells or heart palpitation any more. My kidneys are normal again and the pains in my back are gone. Sargon gave me new strength and energy so that I can do my housework cheerfully and without tiring."

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely overcame my constipation, and headaches and dizzy spells are things of the past. My nerves are in fine shape and I am so much better in every way that I feel like a new woman."

"I will gladly tell anyone how much I think of this wonderful Sargon treatment."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Ray Brown, highly esteemed resident of 1162 Gordon St., to learn more of the remarkable powers of this revolutionary new medicine, Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' drug stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

Longer Margins.

In discussing the subject of "Longer Margins," W. C. Waddell, of Greenville, Tenn., declared a lot of the margin dealers are talking about getting away from it. This is due too often to the envy and jealousy existing between retailers in all lines, he said.

In his summarizing address, Mr. Soule said operating for profit was the real basis of every retail establishment to the public.

Preceding the election of officers, with J. D. Forbes, of Valdosta, president, Georgia Retail Hardware and Implement Association, presiding, there was a question box discussion on "Advertising," led by B. A. Crisman, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who told of how he had found it profitable to advertise with a regular size space every day in each of the two daily newspapers in his city and of how such advertising could be used in creating good will for the retailer as well as a constant outlet of buying information to the public.

The feature address of the convention was delivered Wednesday afternoon by Donald McDonald of B. F. Avery & Sons Co., Louisville, Ky., who outlined many ways and methods of "merchandising for profit," urging dealers to handle well advertised brands of nationally known merchandise.

Entertainment features of Wednesday included a luncheon for the ladies at East Lake Country Club and a theater party.

The bill, previously passed in the lower house, was passed in the senate today but only after stubborn resistance from the dry members. A motion of non-concurrence in the assembly bill was voted down, 11 to 19, and five amendments aimed to weaken the bill were rejected. The vote of concurrence was 21 to 9.

DOG RACES REOPEN TONIGHT FOR CHARITY

Betting Forbidden—Woman's Club Will Receive Fourth of All Receipts.

Reopening of greyhound racing at the Dixie Lake tracks on a basis intended to eliminate betting and provide a 25 per cent gate receipt fund for charitable purposes, under sponsorship of the Woman's Club of Union City, is scheduled to go into effect at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

A decision recently handed down by Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain superior court, enjoined the owners of the Dixie Lake tracks from operating the dog races on the "profit-sharing" system, which was likened in the court trial to pari-mutuel betting.

Mrs. V. H. Crusselle, president of the Woman's Club of Union City, where the track is located, announced Wednesday that the club would sponsor the dog races, in co-operation with the owners, for the benefit of civic and charitable organizations.

According to the arrangement, the races are to be held every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night during the summer. The financial agreement calls for a charge of 50 cents per person for admission to the track and a seat in the grandstand. No system of placing wagers on dogs in the races will be available, according to C. Homer Gullatt, owner of the track, who stated Wednesday that special officers will be on hand to apprehend persons who attempt to make books on the races. It is to be conducted purely as a form of entertainment, Mr. Gullatt stated.

COMMUNITY CHEST SURPLUS REDUCED BY HEAVY EXPENSE

An excess of disbursements over receipts of $839.08 was disclosed Tuesday in the monthly audit of the Atlanta Community Chest for April, the condition, according to Frank Miller, executive director, indicating the need of broader public support for the city's necessary work of relief and social service.

The official audit, by Ham Eddison and Company, was made public by Mr. Miller. Expenses for the month were $50,450.57 and receipts were $49,611.49, the items being: Receipts, cash on 1927 subscriptions, $25,192.28; subscriptions, $469.75; 1929 subscriptions, $49,116.74; disbursements, to member organizations, $25,682.03; repaying borrowed money, $22,800; Chest administration, $1,420; expenses, 1929 campaign, $164; 1930 campaign, $534.16; interest on borrowed money, $150.

A cash balance of $986.31 March 31, was reduced to a balance of $147.23 April 30, this decrease of $839.08 in cash on hand representing the excess of expenses over receipts. The financial status of the Chest and the vicissitudes of Atlanta's organized welfare societies in their struggle to maintain the community work of relief and social service, will be presented in the report of the executive committee at the semi-annual meeting of the Chest membership this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ASKED TO ATTEND SCHOOL MEETING

An invitation to members of the Fulton county commission to attend the mass meeting of citizens at the Fulton High school on May 24, when the county school situation will be discussed, was extended to the board by Jere A. Wells, county school superintendent, at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the board.

In a talk on school matters Mr. Wells pointed out the need of new school buildings in the county system, and said that school financial matters will be discussed at the mass meeting. The commission granted the request of the College Heights club, in College Park, for some work on a driveway into the club house.

The commission recessed until 4 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, when, it is expected, the county's efforts to borrow an additional $950,000 will be discussed. The county has already obtained $1,000,000 for operation, pending the receipt of taxes in the fall.

WAR VETS PLAN HUGE BARBECUE; NOTABLES INVITED

Plans for the most elaborate barbecue ever staged by the Spanish-American war veterans in Atlanta were laid Wednesday and Sam C. Crane, secretary of the national soldiers' and sailors' committee, declared that notables from many parts of the United States will be invited to attend.

Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George, of Georgia; Congressman Leslie J. Steele, of the fifth Georgia district; Congressman John L. Clem, of the United States army; Congressman Roy Johnson, Senator Brumfield, of Louisiana, and former Governor William Bradford, of Alabama, will be among those invited to attend.

Date of the barbecue has not been set, but it will be held after congress adjourns its special session and during the meeting of the legislature. It probably will be staged at the South-eastern Fair grounds at Lakewood park.

Bees Hold Court on Business Corner

Pedestrians passing the corner of Forsyth and Walton streets early Wednesday afternoon were both amused and frightened by a swarm of bees that circled about the intersection irrespective of traffic lights and other civic regulations. For several hours during the day, thousands of bees paid court to the queen bee who had selected the busy corner for reasons best known to herself. Pictured above are a myriad of Hymenoptera that have settled on top of an automobile that was parked in front of the postoffice. The owner of the car was not given a ticket for parking too long while waiting for the bees to depart.

Dr. Newdigate M. Owensby Honored by Psychiatric By Election as Councillor

New Officers Named by Two Associations, Meeting Concurrently at Biltmore Hotel.

The honoring of one Atlantian and another southerner with executive positions marked the annual elections held Wednesday as the features of the sessions of the convention of the American Association for the Study of the Feeble-minded, meeting concurrently this week at the Biltmore hotel. Dr. Newdigate M. Owensby, Atlanta psychiatrist, was named as councillor on the executive body of the A. P. A., an honor that has been accorded to only a few southerners. The students of feeble-mindedness made Dr. H. H. Ramsey, of Ellenville, Miss., their vice president, another position not recently held by a southern doctor.

Dr. Earl D. Bond, of Philadelphia, vice president during the past year and for four years secretary and treasurer of the association was named president of the A. P. A., succeeding Dr. Samuel T. Orton, of New York. Dr. W. M. English, of Brockville, Ont., was named vice president of the psychiatric association, while Dr. Robert L. Dixon, of Wahjamega, Mich., and Dr. Clarence O. Cheney, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., were re-elected to their respective posts of honorary vice president and secretary-treasurer. In addition to Dr. Owensby, councillors named were Dr. Orton, Dr. M. A. Bliss, of St. Louis, and Dr. Frank L. Robertson, of Stamford, Conn.

Officers Elected.

The association for the study of the feeble-minded made Dr. George L. Waller, of Wrentham, Mass., president and re-elected Dr. Howard W. Potter, of New York, as secretary-treasurer. Councillors named were Dr. Ransom A. Green, of Waverly, Mass., and Dr. Walter N. Thayer, of Napanoch, N. Y., and T. P. Thorn, of Vineland, N. J.

Both associations will meet in Washington, D. C., May 5 to 10, next year, in conjunction with the First International Congress on Mental Hygiene. No radical changes of policy were made by either group.

Chief in interest among the scientific papers given at Wednesday's sessions was a treatment of gland disorders in relation to conduct of disorders of children presented at the morning meeting of the A. P. A. by Dr. Louis A. Lurie, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ductless Gland Disorders.

Dr. Lurie reported that experiments with 500 delinquent and anti-social children had revealed that a large percentage were afflicted with disorders of the ductless glands. These glands not only cause such physical abnormalities as gigantism and dwarfism but they also cause very definite mental abnormalities that often lead to serious conduct disorders, he said.

At the same meeting, Dr. Charles E. Gibbs, of New York, reported that the functional psychosis, "sleeping sickness," was found to have induced serious behavior disorders in many of 150 child victims examined.

Still another paper of interest given at the morning session was a review of eight years of community clinical and educational work done at Danville, Va., the report being made by Dr. J. A. Jackson and Mr. A. Pike. The material submitted tended to show that an intensive educational program in a small community led to the submission of many more cases of mental trouble before they had reached advanced stages. A study of the functional psychoses of childhood by Drs. J. Kasanin and Ralph Kaufman, of Boston, and a report on a new statistical system by Dr. Neil A. Dayton, of Boston, completed the morning session.

Addresses Made.

At a joint session Wednesday afternoon members of the two associations heard papers by Dr. H. H. Storrs, of Thiells, N. Y., on results of work in the Leitchworth village school; Dr. Douglas A. Murphy, on idiocy caused by pre-natal disturbances in the mother; Dr. Edgar A. Doll, a case study on trouble described by Dr. Murphy, and a treatment on congenital syphilis by Dr. Charles S. Woodall, of Waverly, Mass.

The reception to the president was held Wednesday night following the annual address by Dr. R. S. Lillie, of the University of Chicago, who spoke on "The Physical Nature of Nervous Activity." During the afternoon wives of doctors attending the conventions were taken on an extensive sight-seeing tour.

Reports on experiments in the treatment of mangrove chloride in the treatment of certain mental disorders, to be made at this morning's session, is expected to be one of the highlights of today's sessions. Dr. W. M. English, of Brockville, Ont., will make these reports. This afternoon the A. P. A. will meet jointly with the American Psychanalytic Association and at this time speeches by Dr. A. A. Brill, translator of Freud's work, and Dr. William A. White are expected to attract attention. Tonight will be devoted to a number of round table discussions.

Wives of the doctors will be entertained this afternoon at a bridge-ten at the Biltmore. Mrs. Newdigate Owensby and Mrs. Allen Bance will be the chief hostesses at this affair. A number of handsome prizes donated by Atlanta merchants will be given to winners at bridge.

DEPOSITIONS TAKEN IN VENUE ACTION FOR MEMORIAL SITE

Attorneys for the Venable family spent some three hours Wednesday afternoon taking depositions before Rogers Winter, secretary and public director for the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association, obtaining evidence for use in a suit for recovery of the memorial site is pressed in the DeKalb county superior court.

At a meeting held Tuesday plans for reconciliation of differences between the Venable family and the association were outlined, and it was believed certain that an amicable settlement which would permit completion of the memorial project will be reached without resorting to court action.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are J. A. Branch, of the firm of Branch and Howard, and John L. Kelley, of Lawrenceville. Ben Conyers and P. Gambrell represented the association. The hearing will be continued this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

LANE DRUG STORES DECLARE FIFTY CENT DIVIDEND

The annual stockholders' meeting of Lane Drug Stores, Inc., was held in Atlanta today. The board of directors was re-elected except that John H. Mulliken, of New York, replaced O. F. Ghrist, recently deceased.

Following the meeting the directors met and re-elected Harold Roberts, chairman; R. D. Lake, president; A. R. Munn, Thomas C. Cox, N. Chelt and Tate L. Earnest, vice presidents, and G. W. Penri, secretary.

The board declared the quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share on preferred stock, payable July 1 to stockholders as of record of June 15.

Treasurer reports submitted at the meeting indicate that the earnings of the company continue to show an increase and twice exceed the amount necessary to cover preferred stock dividend requirements. On January all credit sales were discontinued and the natural sales loss from this move has been more than recovered.

Heavy Attendance Expected at Dinner Honoring O. C. Harn

The heaviest attendance that has ever marked a meeting of the Five Point league is expected next Monday night at the Biltmore hotel, when Atlanta's advertising men and women will hear an address by O. C. Harn, managing director of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

Mr. Harn is an advertising speaker of national reputation, having had wide and successful experience in every line of this field, as well as in newspaper circulation work.

Reservations for the dinner are being made through Mrs. Virginia Goudy in the Hurt building. Officials of the league state that members are bringing guests to hear Mr. Harn's interesting address.

CONSULS ARE INVITED "Pageant of Nations" Will Be Presented.

Consuls in Atlanta of every foreign nation represented here will be guests of honor next Wednesday night at the "Pageant of Nations," to be presented at the Atlanta Woman's Club by the foreign-born women and girls of Atlanta.

Governor Hardman, Mayor Ragsdale and other officials also have accepted invitations to be guests of the Cosmopolitan Club, which is sponsoring the pageant.

The pageant, to be directed and produced by Enrico Leide, will present girls of sixteen nations in the costumes of their home lands. Music of the various nations, much of it from manuscript, will be played by the orchestra and sung by prominent Atlanta singers.

Charles Hoke, president of the Atlanta Foreign Trade Club, will deliver a brief address before the curtain rises on the American Indian ballet which will open the pageant.

Whiteford and Fair Residents Must Aid Widening.

Members of the city planning commission Wednesday approved zoning of the northeast corner of Whiteford and Fair streets for business, with the understanding that property owners give a five-foot right of way for widening of the street, and at the same time denied a petition to construct an apartment at Waverly way and Elizabeth street.

A petition to erect an apartment on 15th street was withdrawn by petitioners after all members of the eighth ward delegation objected.

The strip at Fair and Whiteford extends 100 feet on Fair street and 50 feet on Whiteford.

17,260 Atlantans Register To Vote in City Primary; Candidates Attend Rally

Tenth Ward Leads With 3,410 Qualifications; Ninth Is Next—Three Meetings Set for Tonight

A majority of the candidates for the nine contested positions for which nominations will be made in the city democratic primary Wednesday night made bids for votes at a rally at Jones avenue and Gray street, where friends of E. P. Dodd, candidate for city council from the fifth ward, gathered. Mr. Dodd is opposed by Dr. W. M. Etheridge, a former member of council.

The rally was begun at 7:30 o'clock and virtually all the candidates in the city-wide races were present.

These are Ernest E. Fitzhugh, opposing W. Zode Smith for the post of general manager of the city waterworks; J. W. Weaver and Dr. J. E. Turner for alderman from the second ward, and Robert E. Gann and L. O. Mosley, who are fighting it out for the aldermanship post from the sixth ward.

17,264 Registered.

Official registration figures were tabulated Wednesday by Walter C. Taylor, city clerk and registrar, and showed that 17,264 are entitled to cast ballots in the primary as against 21,420 in the 1928 primary.

An increase in registration was noted in two of the wards where there are hot contests—the tenth, where 3,410 are qualified as against 2,492 last year, and the second with 1,464 this year compared with 1,292 last year. Tenth ward registration is nearly 20 per cent of the entire list.

Jack Jacobs and W. Chester McLendon are battling for the councilmanic nomination from the second in addition to the aldermanic contest, and former Alderman Charles M. Ford and W. L. Neese are opposing Nelson Spratt, incumbent, for the councilmanic post in the tenth, while Mrs. A. A. Williams and J. R. Swent are lined against each other for the nomination for the school commissioner's post from that ward.

Ninth Ward Second.

Registration in the ninth ward is the second largest in the city with a total of 2,316.

Tabulation of ward registration as released by Mr. Taylor's office follows:

| Ward | 1928 | 1929 |
|----------|--------|--------|
| First | 179 | 80 |
| Second | 1,362 | 1,464 |
| Third | 2,108 | 1,925 |
| Fourth | 1,301 | 713 |
| Fifth | 2,311 | 1,768 |
| Sixth | 1,081 | 621 |
| Seventh | 2,227 | 1,517 |
| Eighth | 2,846 | 1,736 |
| Ninth | 3,151 | 2,316 |
| Tenth | 2,492 | 3,410 |
| Eleventh | 1,323 | 870 |
| Twelfth | 962 | 844 |
| Total | 21,330 | 17,264 |

Three meetings are slated for tonight—one at the Kirkwood school, beginning at 8 o'clock, and held under the auspices of the friends of Mr. Titshaw; another at 517 Boulevard, S. E., in behalf of the candidacy of J. W. Rountree, incumbent, opposed for renomination as councilman from the third ward by Dr. Edwin Scott, and the third at the Anne E. West school under the auspices of the Oremwood Park Improvement Club. Both the latter sessions begin at 7:30 o'clock. All candidates were invited to all the rallies.

Hal McKenzie Wins Singles Title at State Trap Shoot

KARL EITEL MAY UPSET DEERBY DOPE

HAL MCKENZIE WINS SINGLES SHOOT TITLE

Lanier Misses by One Bird in Event at Radium Springs.

By Eddie Brietz.
Radium Springs, Ga., May 15.—(AP)—Shooting one of the most spectacular rounds in the annals of Georgia trap-shooting, H. C. McKenzie, of Atlanta, Ga., won the state singles championship for the second consecutive year here today, smashing 196 out of a possible 200 targets.

The youthful Atlanta finished one bird higher than his old rival, W. H. Lanier, of Augusta, who broke 185 to finish in undisputed possession of second place.

DRAMATIC FINISH.

McKenzie and Lanier staged a most dramatic finish. The Augusta star was in the lead at the conclusion of the first hundred with 97 clean breaks to 96 for McKenzie, but the latter had command of all his old-time cunning in the afternoon and shattered 100 in a row to win the title, while Lanier faltered on the last trap.

By virtue of today's victory, young McKenzie earns a right to compete in the state champions championship at Vandalia, Ohio, late in the summer. He did not enter this event last year, but he plans to compete this fall if his business will permit.

With McKenzie on top and Lanier in the runner-up position, third place in the state race went to another Atlanta, Dr. H. N. Alford, who finished the day's shooting with a grand total of 192 breaks.

Fourth position was shared by G. C. Toliver, of Albany, who has been shooting less than a year; T. H. Hill, of Waynesboro; Earl Clausen, of Augusta; J. H. McDuffie, of Columbus, and C. C. Roundtree, of Egypt, Ga., each of whom broke 180.

MRS. ANDREWS WINS.

The women's championship was again won by Mrs. Walter P. Andrews, of Atlanta, with 181 breaks. Mrs. Frank Rodgers, another Atlanta, was second with 178.

J. M. Hawks, of Macon, won the professional title with the very good score of 196, the same mark McKenzie used to win the amateur crown. Walter Huff, Macon, was second, with 193. A. Cusden, of Tampa, was third with 181 and J. B. Barton fourth with 152.

The high gun of the entire day was E. D. Flynn, of Mobile, former Alabama state champion, who broke 197 and stood alone in this bracket. He was the winner of the class A championship.

BEST SQUAD SHOWING.

McKenzie was not the only gun to break a hundred in a row today. Henry E. Johnson, Florida state champion, and high gun of the 1929 meet in Atlanta, went through the afternoon round without a miss.

The best squad showing was made by the outfit composed of W. H. Lanier, of Augusta; P. R. Earle, the South Carolina state champion; J. Chipley, of Greenwood, S. C.; J. A. Kries, of Knoxville, Tenn.; and H. D. Freeman, of Atlanta. This quintet shattered 965 of the last 1,000 targets.

In the shoot for the Tallahassee Albany cup, an annual affair, the Florida team was victorious for the second straight year with an average of 96. Albany's average was 93.60.

The Tallahassee squad was composed of L. A. McCants, R. H. Bradford, R. O. Collins, E. E. Bush and L. S. Lossing.

The only other event on the program today was the first half of the Georgia championship doubles. The first half was shot off today with the other scheduled for tomorrow.

Double scores made in the first half of that shoot today follow:
H. C. McKenzie, Atlanta, 44 out of a possible 50 targets; Sam I. DuRoi, Atlanta, 44; H. N. Alford, Atlanta, 43; W. N. Napier, Atlanta, 41; John J. Woodside, Atlanta, 40.

Albany Gets 1930 Shoot.

Radium Springs, Albany, Ga., May 15.—After a vigorous contest between the Atlanta Gun Club and the Radium Springs Gun Club, the Georgia Trapshooting Association tonight awarded the 1930 shoot to Radium Springs.

The award was made at the annual business meeting of the association, when a vote of 16 to 15 was cast in favor of the local club.

Dr. J. H. McDuffie, of Columbus, was re-elected president of the association, with W. H. Lanier as vice president and Sam I. DuRoi, of Atlanta, secretary.

Mrs. Walter P. Andrews, of Atlanta, was elected delegate to the grand American trapshoot at Vandalia, Ohio, with Joe Reynolds, of Waynesboro, Ga., alternate.

Championship trophies were presented at the meeting.

No A. A. U. Meet At Tech in May

It was erroneously reported Wednesday afternoon that the Southeastern A. A. U. track and field meet would be held on Grant field May 25, with a team from Tech competing.

Frank Kopf, secretary of the S. E. A. A. U., told The Constitution Wednesday night that the meet would not be held until June, if at all, and that the dates and place of the meet would be decided upon at a meeting of the track committee in Birmingham this week-end when the southern conference meet is to be held.

Tech, meantime, is preparing for the conference meet and although handicapped by the loss of Ed Hamlin, hopes to make a good showing at Birmingham.

Louisville, May 15.—Taking the Kentucky Derby as an indication of prosperity—and certainly no great crowd would dare the expense in times of stringent currency—none need wait hard times now.

A rather comprehensive checkup of transportation offices reveals that this year's crowd will exceed even that of 1927 when 85,000 saw Whiskery win.

Railroads have made parking space for the greatest number of special trains in the history of the event. Airways serving the middle west will have over a hundred tri-motored passenger planes Friday and Saturday bringing late arrivals. River steamboat lines are running a record number of excursion boats from points far up the Ohio and as far west as Cairo.

Already parking garages downtown are jammed to capacity and many early arrivals by motor are forced to park in outdoor lots. The Monon lines alone will operate 18 special trains. Five other roads report two or three each. The Jesse Draper party from Atlanta is the largest single party to be carried here by the Southern.

This, of course, does not include an estimate of overflow passengers carried on regular trains in extra cars.

THE GREATEST RACE.

Many see in this race an echo of the famous Spokane-Proctor Knott duel of 1889, which has gone down in history as the greatest of them all.

Forty years ago Proctor Knott was the idol of the Blue Grass just as Blue Larkspur is now. The gelding was an odds on choice at 2 to 5. Spokane was the far western star, a Montana colt, that was held at 16 to 1 in the pari-mutuels. In that great race Proctor Knott set off on top and held the lead until the stretch when Spokane overhauled him. In a terrific neck and neck struggle, Spokane, brilliantly ridden by Riley, won by a nose.

This year Blue Larkspur is running for the Blue Grass and will be the favorite while the far west has Nashapur, the California ace, and a worthy contender. Best of the eastern entries is Voltair. Clyde Van Dusen has his following divided between Kentucky and New York. Windy City is the Chicago pet.

The point is that section lines once more are drawn with the Hardboots, as the Kentuckians are called, furnishing the public choice and the east and far west shooting with equine guns powerful enough to blow Kentucky off the track if racing conditions are just right.

TURF ROMANCES.

Makings of a turf romance can be found in the appearance of nearly every one of the three-year-olds under silks. One of

They May Beat Blue Larkspur

While Blue Larkspur is the top-heavy favorite to win the Kentucky Derby Saturday other owners haven't given up hope. One of the most formidable competitors is Clyde Van Dusen, lower left, one of Man O' War's four sons entered in the Derby. At the top is Voltair, one of the mostly highly regarded entries from the east. Voltair won the opening race at Bowie and is considered a strong candidate for Derby honors.

FAST FIGHTS ON CLUB CARD

Riverside Cadets Take Away Honors in Amateur Ring Program.

A good crowd witnessed a fine boxing card at the Atlanta Athletic Club yesterday night as the second amateur fight program.

From the first bout to the last, from the 115 pounders to the 175-pound class, the boys furnished plenty of action, and few of them had ever heard of the gentle art of clinching, if their actions could be taken as a proof.

Mike Mooney's squad from Riverside Military academy stole a big share of the laurels as four of their five boxers came through on the winning end.

Tom Clark used a long reach to advantage as he took the curtain raiser from "Monk" Johnson, A. A. C. basketball guard.

In the second bout, Charley Port reversed the decision called by Red Parker in their mix up on the earlier card as he won the fourth round easily after the boys had battled through three fast frames to a draw.

F. W. Duke, the first of the Cadets to make an appearance, opened his opponent up and cut him badly to win. Boers, the Atlanta boy who opposed him, put up a nice fight, but was not good enough.

W. Y. Barnes, another Cadet, a stocky built little husky, battled three nice rounds to a draw with A. S. Johnson, of Clarksville, and put on a big offensive in the extra round to take the decision.

T. Wallis and "Whitney" Craig put on another good battle, with Wallis displaying power in each hand to win. G. Vaughn took the first round of his battle with S. Enzor, and it proved to be the deciding margin as Enzor came back to even the second and third rounds.

Joe Wofford put a dent in the Riverside string of victories as he out-punched C. H. Campbell in the third round after an even battle until that time.

O. Driveway took all M. Morris had to give in the eighth bout, liked it, and gave better than he got to and another win to the Cadet record.

F. Gomilla tackled the last scalp to the Cadet belt as he was given the decision over "Kink" Carpenter, winner flash, in an extra session.

English Girl Star Is Lost to Team

London, May 15.—(AP)—Miss Eileen Bennett will not be available for the British Wightman cup tennis team which will defend the trophy against the Americans at Forest Hills in August. It was learned today.

Eileen's mother who constantly accompanies her daughter when she plays at home or abroad is unable to make the trip this year and "Eileen's father wouldn't care for her to go unaccompanied by me," Mrs. Bennett explained.

The pretty little English girl was runner-up to Helen Wills for the French championship last year and in the Wightman cup contest won a match in singles and one in doubles, losing only to Miss Wills.

Roguish Eye's Sub Startles Clockers With Fast Workout

Big-Boned Son of Polymelian Now Ranks With Favorites in Saturday Feature.

By Ed Danforth.
Constitution Sports Editor.

Louisville, May 15.—Karl Eitel thrust his enormous red frame into the very midst of the select gathering of derby possibilities here this afternoon when he flashed a sensational workout over a drying out track.

The blustering chestnut son of Polymelian worked the full derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2:09 2-5. It was an eye-opening performance and it left those who had fondly imagined three or four highly pressed-gallopers had the race all to themselves hanging on the rail.

Karl Eitel will be the pinch hitter for Roguish Eye, once the darling of the stables of Bathhouse John Coughlin, of Chicago. Both of these colts were destined to go to the post, and it was on Roguish Eye that all the time and training was lavished. Karl was to act merely as pacemaker—good old big-boned Karl. Roguish Eye broke down the other day and Karl was left with the load of silks to carry.

Karl was fat and heavy, but the Coughlin stable staff got to work on the big colt. They shortened and sharpened his diet and worked him as hard as they dared. Today they put Bobby Jones aboard with instructions to find out what the colt had. Only an experienced jockey can really judge whether a colt is ready to race or not, whether the animal has speed in reserve and will respond to urging.

TRACK DRIVING.

The workout over a track that was drying out from yesterday's rain—and it was a bit slow—was nicely rated. Reliable clockers caught him as follows: 1:14, 1:42 3-5, 1:18 and 2:09. He pulled up full of run and cooled out well.

Karl Eitel then makes just another fit performer who will vie with Blue Larkspur, Voltair, Clyde Van Dusen, Nashapur and Windy City in the first thoughts of a race-loving public.

Blue Larkspur and Clyde Van Dusen merely appeared on the track for light cantering. Their trials yesterday in the soupy going were considered sufficient proof that they were ready to do their best Saturday.

Nashapur raced in the "trial" and after a slow start to the mile, he finished a fast time of 1:50 1-2, a time that must be given serious consideration as a contender.

MINOTAUR WORKS.

Minotaur, the sleek slim colt that John Thompson, Jr., recently purchased, worked the derby distance in 2:13 1-5, late this afternoon pulled up for the last eighth of a mile. He pulled up for a mile and an eighth in 1:56 2-5, which clearly indicated that this colt would not be short Saturday.

Voltaire, one of the most highly regarded entries from the east and a fine hustling sort of colt, worked the route and pulled up in good shape without pressing for the last eighth.

Not all of Kentucky's experts are riding Blue Larkspur. Vernon (Screw) Sanders, veteran handicapper who picked the derby one-two-three, last night gave his opinion that Clyde Van Dusen will win the scramble and defies anyone to show him where Clyde is not a stand-out.

Sanders was a year to Van Dusen's marvelous race last year in the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes as his main reason, and he says the little colt, weighing less than 120 pounds, will skim home over the Downs course wet or dry.

VAN DUSEN TO WIN.

Robert Rose (Ax) Elliott says the same thing. With careful indifference to the form sheet, Ax Elliott dismisses them all with a wave of his hand and accepts Clyde Van Dusen as the fastest, firmest thing on four legs in the whole field. "And Linus McAttee, who will ride him, is a smart, shrewd, astute pickin' artist in the business," Ax adds sagaciously.

By tomorrow I can shoot this Van Dusen program, and I'll have learned exactly how the derby will come out from Weyman Hill, my dark bay agent for the Kentucky Jockey Club. I have an appointment with Weyman at the track early Thursday morning, and you can count on Weyman taking Clyde Van Dusen very lightly. He never likes a little horse in the big scuffle.

That club-footed, slow-moving, no-account Toro won the Kentucky hotel handicap today and I roundly cursed him from barrier to wire. Toro was the tardy brute that was flat in the derby last year and got no farther up than third place. It seemed that last year Toro had been informed the race was a mile and three-quarters and he did not begin to run until he neared the grandstand the second time.

MONTHS TOO LATE.
Toro and four others hopped off right in front of the stand in a mile and a sixteenth race today and as he passed the press box he saw me. He grinned and dropped back to fourth place. Jockey Coleman, riding Bradley's Buttered Toast, cruelly crowded Cal Roper into the mud in the fourth place on the back stretch. They swung and Toro cantered along. He probably heard my wishes. He probably heard me giving him fits and wishing him all the bad luck in the world. But as they turned into the stretch Jockey Pascuma stepped on the gas and Toro drew away to win. Why the boy never even shook out the wraps while Blackwood, a dead game colt by Black Toney, took a terrific lacing with the whip to stay lapped on Toro's flank.

So I saw Toro win at the Downs but it was 12 months too late. I hope he loses steadily from now on.

Smithies May Cinch Flag

If Tech High wins its game this afternoon with the cohorts of Coach O'Leary, of East Point, they will definitely clinch the pennant for the prep baseball loop for 1929.

If they lose, they will still retain the league lead and a chance at the flag.

However, the best battle of the day will be the tilt between Boys' High and Fulton High at Henry Grady field to determine the winner of the runner-up position in the race. At present the Purple is slightly behind the county team, but judging from past performance the Hurricane is a better machine, and has an excellent chance of beating the Fultonites.

King or Anderson will lead the attack from the mound for the second batter holders, while Nash or Methven will hold down the pitching assignment for Boys' High. Nash will probably do the work as it has been definitely decided that he is eligible to compete in the city prep contest.

The complete schedule for the afternoon is:

Tech High vs. Russell High, at East Point.

Boys' High vs. Fulton High, at Grady field.

U. S. B. vs. Marietta, at Piedmont Park.

G. M. A. vs. Decatur High, at Decatur.

Pompano Race Track Purchased

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., May 15.—(AP)—Purchase of the Pompano racing plant by a New York syndicate for a consideration said to exceed $1,000,000 was announced here today by J. K. Forshee, of New York.

It was stated the track, a horse racing plant, which has not been operated since the season of 1926, will be remodeled and made ready for a 30-day meeting during next winter.

National Leaders Win; Giants Beaten

Mike Cvetengros Stars on Mound for Cubs; St. Louis Rallies To Win.

The Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals remained tied for the National League leadership as a result of Wednesday's games.

Brilliant relief pitching of Mike Cvetengros featured the Cubs' 7-to-4 victory of the Boston Braves. Kiki Cuyler returned to the Cubs' lineup and hit a home run.

Coming from behind, the Cardinals beat the Phillies, 4 to 1. Friberg's home run gave the Phillies their only run off Mitchell.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Giants, 12 to 3. Red Lucas holding the Giants to seven hits. Joe Stripp hit two home runs and Swanson one.

Pittsburgh won from Brooklyn, 9 to 4.

Mobile Fielder Has Perfect Day at Bat—Vols Lose.

Mobile, Ala., May 15.—Mobile defeated the Vols today, 7 to 2, and made it two out of three. The visitors used three pitchers, Miltstead, Lyons and Sanders, all three being scored on.

Griffin started for Mobile and went wild in the seventh, and Morton relieved him and was not scored on. Dumas, for the Bears, batted 1.000, rapping out a home run, a triple, two singles, walking one and scored four times.

ATLANTA MEN ON MAT CARD
 McGrory Signs Two Atlanta Lightweights for Friday Night Show.

Two Atlanta wrestlers will appear in a preliminary match to the Paul Harper-Paul Jones match at the auditorium next Friday night.

Mike Adams, weight 160 pounds, and Bill Manley, of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., will meet in a 30-minute time-limit match. They are two of the best produced in Atlanta and their match should provide an interesting curtain-raiser to the main event.

In the semi-windup Marshall Blackstock, weight 212, will meet Frankie Seroginis, weight 205, in a one-hour match. This match should be another fast-moving one with plenty of action.

In the main event Promoter Earl McGrory has a prize. Paul Jones and Paul Harper are two men ideally suited for opponents. There is enough difference in their styles to make them a great attraction.

Harper, a powerful and intelligent grappler, is a versatile one so far as holds are concerned. He is authority for the statement that he has developed a new hold for use Friday night.

Jones, the leaping hook scissor man, is always a terror to his foes. His powerful hook grip, wherein he throws one knee about an opponent's body just at the solar plexus region and then hooks the other leg over the one gripping the opponent, is one of the unique holds of the wrestling game. It has never been broken when correctly and completely obtained. It forced Ed (Strangler) Lewis to surrender a full little more than a year ago. He could not break it.

Friday night's card should be one of the best shows of the year. The preliminaries will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Indians Trim Hugmen, 7 to 1; Lou Gehrig Hits Eighth Homer of Season.

Both leaders lost in the American league Wednesday, Detroit beating the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 5, and Cleveland winning from the New York Yankees, 7 to 1.

Harry Heilmann scored the winning run for Detroit in the ninth inning, but was carried from the field unconscious after a collision with Mickey Cochrane at the plate. Heilmann singled and raced home on Alexander's double.

Earl Averill and Joe Shanteau started for Cleveland in beating the Yankees. Averill made several brilliant catches and Shanteau pitched superbly, the only run made off him being Gehrig's eighth homer of the season.

Hits by Mannish, Schulte and Kress broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning and enabled the St. Louis Browns to win from Washington, 5 to 3.

Gray Sox Open Season Monday

Atlanta's Gray Sox, the city's favorite aggregation of colored ball tossers, take the diamond Monday in the opening game of their regular playing schedule, against the Louisville Black Cats, also members of the Colored Southern league.

Last year the Gray Sox made an enviable record, playing in unorganized ball, and it is expected that this year's team will be a pennant winner in organized circles. Some of the old stars will be seen in the lineup on opening day along with several new faces who promise to give the fans a ball club well worth their support.

The Colored Southern league is composed of teams representing the following cities: Chattanooga, Nashville, Louisville, Evansville, New Orleans and Atlanta. This will bring to Atlanta some of the finest colored clubs in the south. Louisville and Evansville have never brought a club to this city before, and their close proximity to cities in the Negro National league make them contenders that will be watching. They are able to look over material cast off from the big clubs in the west, and thereby have a decided advantage. With this in view the fans are looking forward to some great games when they come to town next Monday.

Baseball League for Southern Members of S. C. Is Formed

Interest in Game To Be Stimulated

Seven Universities Have Already Joined—North-South Series Is Planned.

By Bob Sherrod.

A college baseball league for members of the lower end of the Southern Conference is in the process of formation and a schedule to that end will be arranged for next year, it was learned from Coach W. P. White today. Seven colleges, Georgia, Tech, Alabama, Auburn, Clemson, South Carolina, and Mississippi have already agreed to become members of the league. Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Mississippi A. & M., have been invited to join, while other members of the conference from this section will be asked also, it is said.

STARS ENTER FRENCH MEET

Tilden, Hunter and Wills Compete Against Lacoste and Borotra.

Paris, May 13.—(AP)—Entries for the French tennis championships beginning Monday have closed with all of the most prominent men and women players of Europe and the United States enrolled.

The great French stars, Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra; the Americans, Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, and Baron Umberto de Morpurgo, of Italy, are considered the leading contenders for the men's singles crown now worn by Cochet, but Jacques Brugnon, of France; Von Kehring, of Hungary; Kea Bonnan, of Czechoslovakia; Hans Timmer, of Holland; and "Bunny" Austin, of England, all are looked upon as dangerous.

In the feminine division the championship is virtually conceded to Miss Helen Wills, the present holder, while Lili D'Alvarez, of Spain; Mme. Roger Mathieu, of France; Kea Bonnan, of Holland; Ellen Bennett, of England, and Cecile Aussem, of Germany, rank as possible finalists against the Californian.

Tilden and Hunter, Cochet and Brugnon and Borotra and Lacoste stand out as the best men's doubles pairs. Favorites in mixed doubles include Miss Wills and Hunter, Miss D'Alvarez and Borotra and Miss Aussem and Cochet.

A women's tennis match between France and the United States beginning Friday will open a tennis festival lasting 18 days, as the tournament is played in leisurely style.

Only One Stater Entered in Meet

Raleigh, N. C., May 13.—(AP)—George H. McGinn, sophomore, will be the only North Carolina State college entrant at the southern conference track meet at Birmingham Friday and Saturday. McGinn is entered in the 880-yard run, a distance he covered in 1 minute 58 and 2 seconds in the recent state meet.

New Interest.

Tennis interest is increasing at the University of Wisconsin. Six new courts are being laid out this spring.

CRACKERS WIN CHICK SERIES

Hard Hitting Attack Gives Club 11-to-7 Victory.

a 11-to-7 defeat Wednesday afternoon at Spiller field.

Shortly before dusk the battered bodies of the Chickasaws were packed into baseball trunks and shipped out of the city to Birmingham where it is thought they may be revived.

They had been defeated three straight times, the Atlanta Crackers swarming over them from the first inning in each game and fighting their way through the ninth without the semblance of let-up in the attack.

On Monday and Tuesday the Crackers won because they had better pitching. On Wednesday the pitching was gone but the Crackers, adaptable if nothing, came right in there with some of the finest hitting the season has seen.

They leaped on Harry Kelly, one of the elite of the rival box staff, and the best him to a quivering pulp, knocking him out of the box in the next inning. Herb (Huckshot) May followed him and they had Herb kick it all before the game was done.

HITTING GAME.

It became evident early that the game was to be one fought out with bickering bats. The pitchers were just the ninth man for each club Wednesday.

Art Olsen might have got by for the Crackers had it not been for his start. With two out and two on and Al Niehaus at bat, Olsen tried to waste one.

He lost his control and got it over the plate, curiously as it may seem. And Al Niehaus simply gave it all he had. It was a home run for anyone else.

The Crackers tied it up but then the sixth came around the Crickasaws made a quivering pulp of Art Olsen and Dick Bonelli came along to hold them and get credit for the victory.

ROSENFIELD'S HOMER.

It was a home run by Max Rosenfeld, the slugging center fielder and soon-to-be Mudhen, that stood out as the hitting feature of the afternoon. The Chickasaws tied the score in their half of the sixth at 5-all.

The Crackers, with two hits, a double by Dick Bonelli and a single by Art Olsen, tied the score in the sixth. Dick Bonelli sacrificed and Frankie Zoeller singled one to right field, counted Lopez. Jack Sheehan was an infield out and Max Rosenfeld came to bat.

Tex Jeanes, for some unknown reason, was playing in a bit close. He might have hit Rosenfeld at third had he been back. As it was, the soon-to-be Mudhen slammed one that scudded along as if it were glad to be hit until it was against the scoreboard in centerfield.

A GREAT RUN.

Max Rosenfeld lit out. He got to first in a second or so and tore out for second. Tex Jeanes grabbed up the ball as Rosenfeld clattered around second. Doc Prothro took Jeanes' great heave and turned to find Rosenfeld's dust in his face. He threw desperately for the plate. It was a bit high and wide and Rosenfeld slid in with a perfect hook slide to as thrilling a clinch as has been seen in the fourth, singled in the sixth, doubled in the eighth and walked in the ninth. He was a very hard person to get out.

The Chickasaws were quite busy with the bat themselves. They got more extra base hits than did the Crackers. They had four doubles, three triples and seven singles for 14 hits.

One of those triples, however, was a decided flier. In the sixth, to start the inning that saw Olsen knocked out, Tex Jeanes popped one to short leftfield. Jones and Haley ran back after it. No one covered third. Jeanes, who got to second, simply ran over to third.

SUSTAINED ATTACK.

The Crackers attack was a sustained one. They scored in every inning but one, the third. Harry Kelly was quite burned up when Art Olsen hit him for a double. That is one of the more serious brinks of the brotherhood for one pitcher to hit another. Dick Bonelli came right along and violated the code in the eighth with another double. He scored, going to third on a sacrifice and scoring on a wild pitch by May.

Mike Martineck continued his fast, hustling infield play. His appearance at first base has increased the Crackers' infield strength by 50 per cent.

BASEBALL AND CHICAGO.

There may be some talk of baseball interest waning in eastern prep schools, and possibly eastern colleges, but anyone who figures, the O. N. 2, on the skids, just drop into Chicago when the Cubs are back in town.

The Cubs have had a shot at just six homers so far, and these games were played on bad baseball days, raining, threatening rain, cold or windy. And these six home games drew out 172,000 paid admissions, almost 30,000 per game. One rainy Monday drew 22,000 paid and 9,000 women admitted free. The Cubs are almost certain to crack all home game admission figures once more, having lifted the mark last year. And if they should slip into a world series against the Yankees, provided said Yankees don't slip, they could sell out Soldier field, or Cook county, for that matter.

THE HAND AND EYE.

The hand is said to be quicker than the human eye. So is the human leg. For that matter, the eye is none to fast when it comes to checking the details of motion.

Recently I happened to see a normal speed picture of a large chorus dancing. At normal speed the young ladies seemed to be working in uniform rhythm. Apparently they were a flawless team. In slow motion the same act looked ragged and spotty. Their foot and leg timing was badly disorganized. But the eye couldn't catch these discrepancies at normal dancing speed.

There is a test for that so few can readily see what happens in the course of a golf swing. The swing travels at a pace much too fast for the eye to follow. It took the slow motion camera to prove any number of disputed points. Even leading professionals and crack amateurs had to revise their earlier ideas of what actually took place. The slowness of the eye in transmitting its flash to the brain is also responsible for the wide divergence of opinion at almost any fight that isn't one-sided. Even the judges rarely agree on many rounds. Veteran fight critics can be as wide apart in their verdicts as the outposts of a Siberian frontier. Many misleading deductions have been made at copying styles or rendering verdicts, because the eye couldn't follow the pace of hands or arms or feet.

ANOTHER ALEX THE GREAT.

Dear Sir: Detroit picked up quite a ball player in Dale Alexander, its first baseman. He's six-three and weighs 225, and how he can punish the ball! He has such tremendous arm power that he hits equally as hard to right as to left field, which is quite a feat for a right-handed batter. His never safe to pitch outside to him, for the ball may carom off the right field wall or go into the stands. He is a bit rough in the field, but has a good glove hand and is learning. He has a chance to make the fans talk of some one besides Ruth and Gehrig.

THE FASTEST BALL PLAYER.

Dear Sir: Who is the fastest man in baseball? American league players say he is Jack Rothrock, of the Boston Red Sox. The story is told that Paddock once gave Rothrock a five-yard handicap in Los Angeles, and the Red Sox star ran him an even race. Eddie Morgan and John Burnett, of the Cleveland Indians, are two other fliers, and Roy Johnson, of the Tigers, can move with the wind. The National league also has some fast boys, and the question probably never will be answered. But it would take a real wind burner to pass Rothrock.

YOU CAN'T STOP 'EM TALKING FOOTBALL.

Dear Sir: The word is out in the middle west that Dick Hanley will have a great football team at Northwestern next fall. His freshman crop was heavy with stars, and in spring practice the new men showed real ability. Henry Bruder, of the 1928 team, should be one of the best backs in the business next fall, and there are enough veterans to make the team a real balance. Around Chicago they say "Watch the Wildcats!"

GOLF YOU DREAM ABOUT.

In the Ryder cup matches Leo Diegel and Espinosa turned in a 66 at Moortown. In the individual test Diegel had a 65, and he played the next nine holes against Abe Mitchell in 33. In the qualifying test around Muirfield he had a 74 and a 70. In his first two rounds of the British open he had a 74 and a 69.

Leaving out, of course, the twosome job, Diegel's first 99 holes of golf in England and Scotland, all in tournament play, left him 14 under even 45, or something like 20 under par, one of the most remarkable combinations of brilliancy and consistency over three hard courses that any golfer has yet produced. And a big part of it was played in wind and rain and cold weather.

When Diegel happens to get started he can travel at about as fast a pace as any golfer that ever lived—from the reign of King James of Scotland to the present moment.

Some day one of the present ring champions is going to permit an opponent to come in at the proper weight, but when that happens the opponent will probably be ordered to leave an arm or a leg in the dressing room.

Old Cracker Rival Returns for Series

Kid Elberfeld, Here Today With Travelers, Once Waged War With Cholly Frank.

By Ralph McGill.

Norman (Kid) Elberfeld returns to Spiller field today as coach of the Little Rock club.

Time was when that announcement alone would have fanned the wrath of the Crackers fans and sent them out to the park shouting for the blood of the Tobacco Kid.

The Kid waged war on the Crackers. He and Cholly Frank were great haters. The Kid used to say that the Crackers were afraid of him and his Travelers.

They were both great showmen. There was the time when Cholly Frank locked the gates against Sauton and Smith and locked the Kid out, too. He climbed on the fence and shouted at the old Dutchman.

There was the time the Kid asked waivers on himself in order to get down to the limit and Cholly Frank claimed him, violating the custom of granting courtesy waivers.

"What do you want him for?" the Dutchman was asked.

"I will make him play third base," said the Dutchman, grimly. He finally gave in. But he and the Kid were always warring.

There was no adverse decision then that did not find the Tobacco Kid storming out of the dugout to do battle with the umpires. He fought and his club fought. The Kid is small and he was always getting knocked down. But he bobbed up fighting again.

Perhaps the greatest free-for-all fight the Southern league ever saw took place at Birmingham. The Tobacco Kid was taunting Jackie Miller, saying mean things about his nationality. Red Cox and Stu's Stewart led the fight on Elberfeld and one of the Travelers catchers. The Traveler squad swarmed out and the Barons came charging across the field to the rescue. It was a grand fight with the umpires trying to quiet them down. There were quite a few suspensions meted out after that battle.

The Kid and the Dutchman—both great showmen. They hated each other so much they grew to have a genuine affection for each other. The old Dutchman was a wily one. He knew that the fans grew tired seeing nothing but baseball. He gave them other things. He made the fans hate the Kid and the Travelers. The Little Rock series always drew big crowds.

NO SUCCESSOR.

There is nothing like it now—the league has no one like the old Dutchman. There is no manager like the Kid—surging out to bust an opponent on the nose, to kick an umpire in the pants or to challenge the fans.

Baseball has grown more gentlemanly. They don't hate any more. The Kid couldn't forget the old days. He had fought, actually fought, actually fought, actually fought. He was forced to cancel the engagement because of an injured hand.

BRITISH MAY ENTER OPEN

Hagen, Leading at Leeds, Says Pros Want To Come Over.

By Walter Hagen.

(British Open Golf Champion.) Moortown, England, May 13.—There is considerable talk among the British professionals about organizing a visit to America in June to try for the United States open golf championship, but nothing definite has been decided as yet. Compton, Cotton and Boomer favor the project, if their clubs will grant the necessary leaves of absence.

Though I started with two fives against the wind and missed two short putts in the match today, I got two long putts down and shot a seventy for the aggregate of 139.

Watrous lost ground with two sixes, taking seventy-four and making his total 144, tying Diegel and Compton, each of whom got a seventy-three today to add to his 71 of yesterday.

Horton Smith went into the ditch and was bunkered at the first hole. He took an eight to get out and make 71, with a total of 152.

I have been honored by an invitation to play the Prince of Wales on Saturday or Sunday next on a course near London and am delighted to accept.

It will be on Saturday, if I am not in the Leeds final.

Simplicity Marks Stallings Services

Friends and Neighbors Pay Tribute To Departed Baseball Leader—Burial at Macon.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—(AP)—Far away from the busy world of the baseball diamond where for so many years he had reigned as one of sport's most widely celebrated "czars," Wednesday in the peaceful surroundings of friends and relatives at the beautiful Riverside cemetery, was laid to rest in solemn simplicity all that was mortal of George T. Stallings.

From old baseball associates of the diamond, the old snail-foot champions back in the days when he was literally an unknown, came telegrams and letters. Tuesday and Wednesday, bringing condolences to the bereaved family, of which there is a wife, three sons—White Stallings, of Chicago; George Stallings, Jr., of Haddock, Ga.; and Vernon Stallings, of New York, and two brothers, T. P. Stallings, of Augusta, and Frank Stallings, of Akron, Ohio.

The funeral services at the home Wednesday at 2 p. m., read by the Rev. F. J. Clarkson, of St. Joseph's Catholic church, were as he wished, held in quiet and simplicity amid a large gathering of folk of Mr. Stallings' acquaintance who had traveled from all over the state to be present at the ceremonies.

Old friends of his acquaintance out at Meadowmere, the huge plantation five miles from Haddock, Ga., which he purchased 35 years ago and where he had spent all of his time since then when not engaged in baseball activities. Old friends from Augusta and several other towns were present at the services.

Although the press of the baseball season prevented many of his associates of recent years from attending the final rites, those older friends who had known him were in evidence.

After the services at the home the procession was driven to Macon to the Riverside cemetery and the services at the grave were conducted in the same simplicity by the Rev. Father Clarkson. As a partial show of the tribute that friends desired to show to the dead man were dozens of wreaths of beautiful flowers of every bloom sent from almost every one of the eastern states. Flowers sent from the team, one from the directors of his Montreal club and many others were carried to the cemetery to grace the bier of the departed and still others filled the room at the home to overflowing, these carried to the grave requiring two trucks to convey them.

Fulton Wins Bout in Court

Minneapolis, May 13.—(AP)—Fred Fulton, retired pugilist-plasterer of Minneapolis, has won against Mike Collins, promoter, and the Minneapolis Boxing Club. The punch netted him $500 in damages.

The contest started in 1926 when Fulton was booked on a local fight program. At the last moment, Fulton was removed from the card by the promoters.

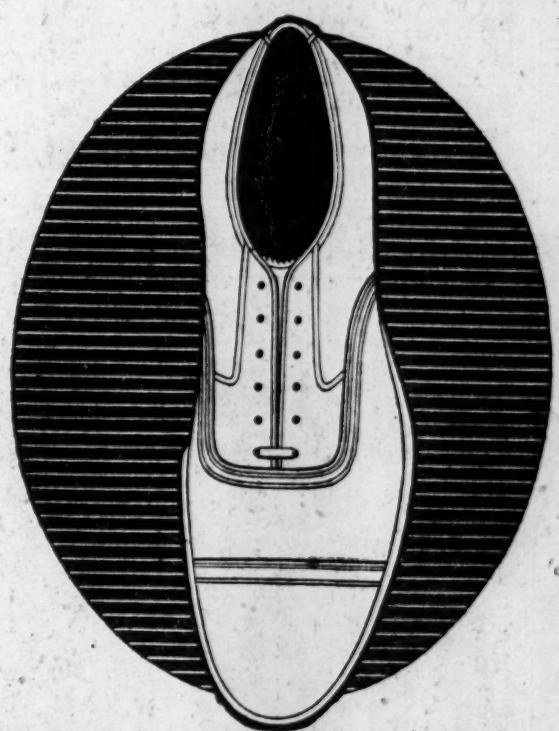

But that didn't end the fight. Fulton countered with a suit for damages. Collins landed a vital blow by having the case thrown out because of an improperly drawn complaint. Fulton rallied with an amended bill.

Known stalling through 1927 and 1928, but Fulton hung on tenaciously and came through with a rousing finish to win the jury's decision.

Stable Divided.

New York, May 13.—(AP)—For the first time in the history of the Ranocosa stable, S. C. Hildreth, trainer for Harry F. Sinclair, has decided to divide the stable.

Hildreth will have charge of the eastern division with La Verne Fator doing the riding, while John Lovell will take a second division west for a season on the Chicago tracks.

Apprentice Boots In 3 Winners, 2 Place Horses In One Day

Aurora Track Sees Great Exhibition

M. Rose Shows Rare Skill in Bringing Horses In—Review of Tracks.

By Orlo L. Robertson.

New York, May 15.—(AP)—Riding three winners and two place horses in one day is an accomplishment of which any veteran rider might be proud, but that is just what M. Rose, only an apprentice jockey, did at Aurora today.

Starting in the opening race Rose was up on the winner in the first, third and fourth races and rode the place horse home in the second and sixth events. In the opening sprint he booted Gay Hallie under the wire ahead of the field but was forced to take the place by a head on Our John in the second.

The little jockey, however, came right back in the third and piloted Secrecy to victory and then had a leg up on Son Ami as he won the feature event of the program by one and one-half lengths from a field of 10 claimers of the better class. Rose scored his second place victory of the day in the sixth race on Erin Go Bragh.

Racing over a heavy track, E. B. McLean's 4-year-old colt, carrying the heavy impost of 122 pounds, captured the Kentucky hotel stakes at Churchill Downs. Tony's win made it two in a row for McLean as his two-year-old colt Hades won the previous event. Blackwood was second and Chiff Roper, a Derby candidate, third in the feature event, which was at one and one-sixteenth miles.

So strongly was the McLean entry backed that he paid only $2.02 for a $2 mutuel ticket. His time was 1:47 3-5.

Mel Foo, the Fancos stable's fleet three-year-old again, went down to defeat as W. R. Coe's Begonia turned in a sparkling performance to win the Southampton handicap at a mile and one-sixteenth at Jamaica. Brown Wizard was third.

The Coe colt ran the mile in the remarkably fast time of 1:38 the finished out the distance in 1:44 2-5. D. Lyons had the mount. Begonia paid 15 to 1.

Kentucky Plans Night Football

Lexington, Ky., May 15.—(AP)—The University of Kentucky will open the 1929 football season against Maryville college October 5 in a night game.

If the innovation is a success, the team's third contest, with Carson Newman, probably will be played at night also. The second game of the season, with Washington and Lee, will be played in the afternoon.

Usually the weather is almost too warm for football if played in the afternoon in early October and that is one reason why the night games will be introduced here. Another is prospects for increased attendance.

HORSE SHOW AIDS CHARITY

Junior League Takes Over Ticket Sales—Entries Are Numerous.

Part of the proceeds from the show to be held May 25 at Piedmont park by the Atlanta Horse Show Association will be used for charity, according to announcement Wednesday by Major Trammell Scott.

The Junior League of Atlanta has taken over the ticket sale and will receive a part of the funds derived. This money, it was announced, will be given to the Tallulah Falls Industrial school.

Sale of the tickets has been rather brisk and the association feels that the tickets will go more quickly. The seats are on sale now at Penelope Tenn's, Rich's and at Trammell Scott's on North Broad street.

Meantime, entries are coming in steadily and it is expected that each of the 16 classes will be well filled.

A large number of entries rolled into Major Scott's office Wednesday from the Governor's Horse Guard. Members of the organization will ride largely in three classes—saddle pony, jumping and enlisted men's class.

There will, of course, be entries in the officer's charger class.

Horses are being worked at private tracks over the city for the show and will be in condition. Querida, a champion jumper owned by Bob Woodruff, has arrived, and is being worked daily at Fort McPherson by Mrs. Blink Drummond, who will ride him in the show for Mr. Woodruff.

Sutter Winner Of Tennis Title

New Orleans, May 15.—(AP)—Cliff Sutter late today won the southern conference tennis singles championship over Maurice Bayon, both of Tulane university.

The scores were 6-3, 6-0, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1. Sutter and Bayon won the doubles championship in the conference tournament last week.

Sutter won over his fraternity brother by the same grit and steadiness that carried him to the finals match of the conference tournament which ran last Saturday interrupted.

The victory, however, was not an easy one. Bayon did not give way until the last set had gotten under way. A sudden crumbling then passed the honors to Sutter.

Bayon started off with a clear and flashy edge in the opening set to win 6-3. Cliff settled down in the second and showed remarkable form as Bayon apparently rested on his first set honors. The champion romped in every game and won the only love set of the match.

The Greenville captain took the sensational third set, 6-2, but the fourth went to Sutter, 6-2, in equally as thrilling style while Sutter came through in resourceful manner to take the climax, 6-1.

the interesting situations is the debut as a horseman of John R. Thompson, Jr., the wealthy owner of the chain restaurants of that name.

Young Thompson bought Minotaur from the Graffagnini stables, spelling not guaranteed, just before the Preakness and saw his new toy run second to Dr. Freedland. Depend upon young Thompson to send Minotaur to the post here. He wouldn't miss it.

Incidentally if Minotaur happens to win, the turf world would owe Thompson a debt of thanks. Imagine trying to write the name of the former owner in a hurry.

THE DERBY AND THE COURTS.

Racing in Kentucky is not a case of appeals to the supreme court. It is a political issue and as such has withstood the attacks of professional regulators for 128 years. The reason for that probably lies in the fact that the people want it. They consider it their birthright and all that sort of thing. One born here can wax poetic over the wisdom of Providence in carpeting this favored land in bluegrass and planting springs of clear, cold limestone water and the impiety in not utilizing them to raise horses of hot blood and firm bone.

Racing in Kentucky is governed by a state racing commission composed of the wealthy, influential men in the state. They guarantee that racing will be conducted on the level and kept out of the hands of gamblers.

The pari-mutuel system of betting—there is no profit-sharing stuff here—is state supervised. The state takes out a percentage which is used for roads or schools, I forget which. No chance for cheating, the business is checked by non-political state auditors.

BRITISH RACING.

The British government has taken over control of race track wagering and the totalizing machine an Australian invention similar to, but more comprehensive than the pari-mutuel indicators, is being installed at principal tracks.

It is said that everybody in England bets on something, particularly the horses. Even newspaper extras are denominated by the last race report carried. Hence it is probable that the government will not let a tidy sum from the enterprise.

This inheritance from English forebears, desirable or undesirable economically and morally as it may be, is why racing is taken so frankly in Kentucky.

ANOTHER TECH RECORD.

While transacting a little railroad business here, an agent told me that the famous run to make up lost time made by the Georgia Tech Special returning from the Rose Bowl had borne fruit for the public.

He displayed a Santa Fe folder announcing that five hours had been cut from the running time of "The Chief." This train traverses the same mountain passes and flat stretches that the Tech Special did when the unbelievable was done and about five hours' time made up after repairs had been made to a car.

Up to that time railroad men had said the run from Los Angeles to Kansas City could not possibly be done with safety in faster time than "The Chief" then made. The Yellow Jacket special and its courageous crew showed them. Thus is the fearful mind freed of its limitations.

Second Round Today In Prep Tennis Meet

Boys' High Picked As Favorite—Matches To Be Played at Piedmont Park.

By Welch Jordan.

In the first round of the prep tennis tournament for the local high schools played at Piedmont park yesterday afternoon Boys' High loomed as the best team in the tournament, although the best men on all of the teams entered drew byes in the first round.

Some of the matches played yesterday were slow and uninteresting, but the matches today will see the cream of prep tennis in action, starting at 3 o'clock at the Piedmont park courts.

The best match of the first round was the two-set affair between Len Bracwell of the Tech High team and Hankins, the G. M. A. star. After a couple of hard sets, Bracwell was victorious, 6-3, 6-2. In the other singles matches Arnold, Commercial High, beat Elrod, G. M. A., 6-4, 4-6, 3-1; Keiser, Tech High, beat Stillwell, East Point, 6-0, 6-2; Powell, Boys' High, swamped Holcomb, U. S. R., 6-0, 6-1; Mach, G. M. A., beat Yow, East Point, 6-3, 6-2; Morrison, Boys' High, won from Wilson, Tech High, on a default as Wilson failed to show up for the match; Crawford, East Point, trimmed Thomas, Commercial, 6-1, 6-1; and Martin, U. S. R., beat Murphy, East Point, 6-4, 7-5.

Only three of the four scheduled doubles matches were played as the second Commercial High team, composed of Besser and Epstein, did not come out to the park, thus defaulting to Hankins and Bunting, of G. M. A.

In the three matches that were played, Bridges and Baker, Boys' High, swamped Martin and Pope, U. S. R., 6-0, 6-2; McConnell and Arnold, Commercial High, defeated Murphy and Yow, East Point, 6-4, 6-3; and Bracwell and Keiser, Tech High, beat Crawford and Stillwell, East Point, 6-2, 6-2.

The singles matches for the second round, originally scheduled for Candler park, have been changed and will be played at Piedmont this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock and continuing until finished. The doubles will begin at 5. The third round will be played at Candler park, as originally intended and the finals at the Atlanta Tennis Club courts at Ponce de Leon and Argonne avenues, Saturday morning.

In the singles this afternoon Bill Reese, U. S. R., will meet Arnold, Commercial High; Bridges, B. H. S., will meet Keiser, T. H. S.; Powell, B. H. S., will battle McConnell, Commercial High; Mach, G. M. A., will engage with Jackson, captain of the Tech High team.

In the lower bracket of the singles, in the second round, Elliot, G. M. A., will play Boynton, U. S. R.; Morrison, B. H. S., will meet Sims, Commercial High; Bracwell, T. H. S., will take on Crawford, East Point, and Martin, U. S. R., goes up against the overwhelming favorite to win the tourney, Bitesy Grant, Boys' High star and holder of several southern titles.

In the doubles play, Bridges and Baker, Boys' High, meet Jackson and Wilson, Tech High; McConnell and Arnold, Commercial High, will battle Elliot and Elrod, G. M. A.; Grant and Powell, Boys' High, meet Bracwell and Keiser, Tech High, and Hankins and Bunting, G. M. A., will advance into the third round on a bye.

TECH OFF TO TRACK MEET

Twelve Men, Including Two for Football Race, in Squad.

Coach Hal Barron, Georgia Tech track mentor, will leave for Birmingham at 4 o'clock this afternoon with 12 members of his squad for participation in the Southern Conference track meet there Friday and Saturday.

Two of the boys will also be entered in the shuttle race for football players, to be run in full equipment, and this team will be augmented by two other gridsters.

Bob Randolph and "Dutch" Faist are the two track men who will essay the 110-yard stretch in scrimmage clothes as well as taking part in the regular events on the program. Bob Durant and Joe Westbrook will round out the grid crew.

Captain "Frog" Beall will head the jacket list, which is completed by Duran, Saks, Brewer, Christfield, Boyd, Swain, Hicks, Coffee and Anastasia.

The Jackets have little chance of coping the meet, but expect to win enough points to be classed well up in the running. The affair is expected to go to either Louisiana State university, present titleholder, or North Carolina, with the dope favoring the Tarheels to wrest the crown from the Tigers. Georgia and Auburn also present strong teams, and may have enough power to upset all calculations and make it a four-sided duel for the laurels.

Coach Clay has driven his charges through several long practice tilts with the junior Jackets this week.

Clay will take Pitchers Jordan, Little, Powell, Brosnan, and Lyford to Athens for duty on the firing line. Ed Herron will get the call for the receiving job, with Schulman and Earl Dunlap on hand for reserve duty. Dunlap has done some catching in practice sessions during the season, and may turn into a capable back when the last ball is thrown Saturday afternoon. The Bulldogs have a fair record for the books, but the Jackets have been through one long drag. They lost two to Georgia two weeks ago.

Misfortunes have fallen thick and fast at the Tech camp during the last few days, the faculty battle axe having lopped off Captain Jimmy Stevens, catcher, Aubrey Hobbs, third baseman, and "Biggy" Quinn, sophomore moundsman.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

PETER RABBIT MAKES A NEW ACQUAINTANCE.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

When meeting strangers be polite; it often saves both pain and fright. —Old Mother Nature.

It was over at the Smiling Pool that Peter Rabbit received one of the greatest surprises of his life. Peter thought he knew all the water folk. Of course, he didn't. He didn't begin to know all of them, because there are many, very many, who do not visit the Smiling Pool, or the pond of Paddy the Beaver, or even the Big River. But Peter knew Mr. and Mrs. Quack, Beauty the Wood Duck and Mrs. Wood Duck, Mr. and Mrs. Black Duck, Honker the Goose and his flock, Teeter the Sandpiper, Rattles the Kingfisher, Longbill the Woodcock and Redwing the Blackbird, all of whom are found on or near the water. He saw all these feathered folk every spring and some of them every fall. So whenever he visited the Smiling Pool, the Laughing Brook or the pond of Paddy the Beaver, he expected to see some of these folk. There were two others that he often saw too, and these were Longlegs the Great Blue Heron and Quack the Night Heron. But he never expected to see any one else among the feathered folk.

So perhaps you can imagine his surprise when one spring morning, as he sat peeping out from behind a bunch of grass, to see a total stranger swim out from the Laughing Brook into the Smiling Pool. The stranger seemed to be very much at home on the water. It made no attempt to come ashore. At first Peter took it to be a half-grown Duck. "I wonder where that young Duck came from," said Peter to Grandfather Frog, who happened to be close by on a green lily pad.

Grandfather Frog looked up. "I don't see any young Duck," said he. "Then there must be something wrong with your eyes, Grandfather Frog," declared Peter. "There he is swimming over where the Laughing Brook leaves the Smiling Pool." "Chug-a-rum!" exclaimed Grandfather Frog. "Chug-a-rum! That doesn't look like a Duck to me. When did you ever see a Duck with a bill like that?"

Peter looked very intently and a queer expression stole over his face. "I never have seen a Duck with a bill like that," he confessed. "Instead of being broad and flat, this fellow's bill is pointed. But he swims like a Duck and if it were not for that bill he would look like a Duck. Do you know who he is, Grandfather Frog?" Just then the stranger swam over until he was right under where Peter was sitting. "Hello, Grandfather Frog," said the stranger. "Hello, Dipper," replied Grandfather Frog. "What are you doing here?" "Just looking around," replied the stranger. Just then Peter Rabbit poked his head out from behind the grass. In the twinkling of an eye the stranger had disappeared. Peter sat up and stared. There was no trace of the stranger anywhere. "Where has he gone?" cried Peter.

"I wonder where that young Duck came from," said Peter to Grandfather Frog.

"Down," replied Grandfather Frog. "That is where Dipper the Grebe always goes when he is started." "What did you say his name is?" inquired Peter. "Dipper the Grebe," replied Grandfather Frog. "You've made a new acquaintance, Peter. When you get to know him better you'll find him a very interesting little fellow." (Copyright, 1928, by The Constitution.)

Located in the center of a thriving business community, the new store, which is the sixth in the company's system in Atlanta outside the two main stores at 78 Marietta street and 85 Walton street, threw open its doors at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and entertained a steady stream of visitors until 9 o'clock last night. Ice cream and other refreshments were served to those viewing the store. Souvenirs also were distributed to the visitors by Mrs. Amelia Elkin, cashier in charge of the new store; A. H. Conner.

As expressions of good will and wishes for success, more than a score of floral tributes were sent to the new store by the two civic organizations which led the movement to have the store located in that community, the Boulevard Improvement Association, of which W. A. Vernon, 608 Cherokee avenue, is president, and the Grant Park Booster Club, of which A. W. Warner, 921 Boulevard, is president, and other merchants and residents of the Boulevard section.

Among those who visited the store to express their good wishes were Councilmen J. W. Houtree and C. L. Chosewood and Aldermen Ben T. Huitt, who are active in the work of the civic organizations in the section.

WALKER LEAVES MACON FOR HOME ON LONG ISLAND

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(P).—John D. Walker, former Sparta banker, released from prison on $8,000 bond, pending trial of three state cases growing out of the failure of his bank chain many years ago, left Macon today for Atlanta.

He said that he planned to spend the night there before going with his wife to their home at Great Neck, Long Island.

Last week Walker was acquitted in United States district court here of a charge of embezzlement in connection with the disappearance of $9,000 in Sparta sinking fund bonds 12 years ago.

"The state cases are no more than civil actions and will come to nothing," he declared before leaving Macon.

POLICEMAN GIVES LIFE IN EFFORT OF SAVING 21 LIVES

Cleveland, May 15.—(P).—Police man Ernest Staab, 30, of No. 1 emergency wagon, sacrificed his life to achieve the removal of 21 bodies from the blazing gas filled Cleveland clinic. Staab arrived while the fumes still clogged the entrance but time after time pushed his way into the darkened hallways into almost positive death.

It became certain tonight at Mount Sinai hospital that some of those removed were alive tonight. Some died as he carried them to open air, but Staab worked away as the fatal gas slowly destroyed his lungs. The policeman collapsed after carrying out his twenty-first burden. He followed those he rescued to an emergency cot and died a few hours later.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(P).—James Barker, negro, was convicted in superior court today on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of C. H. Oxley, night watchman of the Bibb Basket company on February 28. The jury was out on the case only five minutes.
Judge H. A. Mathews sentenced Barker to die in the electric chair on July 11.
Barker was tried last week and the jury failed to agree after seven hours' deliberation.
Oxley was 70 years of age and was making the rounds of the plant as night watchman when he was shot by some one who had broken into the company's office.
Deputies from the sheriff's office several days later arrested Barker, who was a former fireman.

THE UNKISSED BRIDE

By BERTA RUCK

SYNOPSIS.
Joy Harrison, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers, in Harley street, is crushed by a letter from her fiancé, Geoffrey Ford, a well-known novelist, asking to be released from the engagement. Preoccupied with her own trouble she fails to notice that Dr. Travers seems troubled. Towards the end of the day he tells her that he has just lost a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will be forced to give up his house in Harley street.
Dr. Locke, a tenant, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a comfortable villa in the south of France which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he recommend Rex for it. The only hitch to the plan is that they want a married doctor and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new post, Rex turns a deaf ear.
Joy, who has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape for her and she asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. The doctor is stunned by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is badly in need of another job, although her real reason is to have Geoffrey read of her engagement to another man.
The doctor broods over the change his altered circumstances will have on his young nephew and ward, Percival Arthur Pizarro. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and they enter into an agreement to marry on a strictly business basis.

INSTALLMENT XVI. A MISTAKE.

With the tray there were a Bardon Job rose in bud, a folded Morning Post and the new fashion magazine. "How divine!" Mrs. Ford sniffed and dropped the bud upon her pansy colored cushion; took up the magazine. "O, Geoffrey look. Exactly the sort of thing I meant for you. This innocent little frilly pet of a model? Or do you—now tell me how you think it's just a wee bit too debonair?"
"My dear, you're no dower!"
"No. But... that frock reminds me a little bit too much of... another I had, once."
"Ah, one of these sacred frocks," said Geoffrey, tensely.
"It was before you were born," sighed his mother, with one of her rare flashes of naturalness. He wondered for whom she had worn the sacred frock, and turned to a fresh page.
"Personally I'd like to see you in this."

Mother and son discussed the fashion drawings until Mrs. Ford had barely two hours for both and careful toilet before lunching with her favorite enemy. That Morning Post, still unfolded, went away with breakfast tray into the kitchen to the face of countless other papers.
Thus it was that the Fords had missed the letter, and that by chance they were not to hear for some days after this lazy Riverside afternoon of Geoffrey's musings.
"Joy!... Gallant little letter that she wrote, sending back my ring. 'Not the only one who can alter.' I suppose the poor baby thought I should swallow that?... Pious little gesture; to save my feelings? Or to save her face?"

Her little face rose before him, came between him and the glimpse, through branches, of blue sky and soaring swallows. Her face, and jaws as he had sometimes seen it. Soft full petal pink lips and quivering. Eyes widening as tears rose...
"I say, dear, don't. Precious few men are worth crying about; I'm certainly not one of the few." Geoffrey said half aloud to the empty backwater. Still the look on that dream face mesmerized her late lover. It held him, held him, held him to the thought of Joy Harrison, fiancée of his sweethearts, whose love had been given to him with a completeness not often met with in these days of many and superficial distractions, whose love he had tossed aside like that cigarette end. Misgivings teased him; he who had the gift of seeing a question—first from this angle then from that; gift, to the artist; disadvantage to the man.
"Joy loved me better than any woman I shall ever meet. Joy would always have believed in me... Joy would have put one's feelings first, you bet she would. Why did I have to pour it all out to Mums when I got back that I wasn't as keen as I'd been?... I want to be able to express one's feelings so well; it always ends in expressing more than one can ever possibly feel. Then one feels bound to still to it. I will let you in at once to the reason for my thinking better of this—or arrangement... It's just the question of the boy. My nephew. I am responsible for his education and I do not feel I can let him down, if there is any other possibility." Whereupon she had drawn a breath of relief.

JUMP IN CALL MONEY RATE HALTS STOCK EXCHANGE ADVANCE AGAIN WEATHER BOTH

AIDS AND HURTS CROP CONDITION

Washington, May 13.—(P)—The department of agriculture's weekly weather and crop bulletin for the week ended yesterday says in the southern portion of the cotton belt temperatures in general, were rather unfavorable, but it was too cool in the north, while heavy rains were unfavorable in many places west of the Mississippi river, especially in north-

er. districts. In the northern half of the belt the first part of the week was too cloudy and wet, with cool nights, but the latter part was more favorable, with considerable sunshine and warmer weather prevailing. Stands are mostly spotted and

In Texas rains were beneficial where not excessive, and the general progress of cotton was fair, except locally where too dry in the west, or damaged by excessive rains in some eastern sections; planting and replanting made slow progress. In Oklahoma the cool, wet weather was very unfavorable, with Available, with planting delayed, germination poor, growth very slow, and the crop late, with much yet to be planted and replanted. Most of Arkansas was too wet also, with progress poor, but some improvement was noted in Louisiana.

Sugar.

New York, Mar. 15.—Raw sugar was unchanged today but offerings at last paid prices were more liberal and demand less active. Sales reported were 50,000 bags of Cuban for May shipment at the quoted price.

Early returns in raw sugar futures as a result of covering and some European buying attracted increased offerings and were not as later trading. The market closed

The market opened 2 points higher to 1.75 with next May the only month showing any decline. Trading was not very active during the early forenoon and prices continued within that range up to about 1:45 p.m. The fact that holders of spots continued to offer quite freely at prevailing prices seemed to discourage recent buyers.

Prices weakened later under renewed liquidation and selling by trade interests. The market closed at about the lowest of the day. Sales 40,400 tons. May closed 2.00; July 1.83; September 1.88; December 1.94; January 1.96; March 2.01; May 2.07. There was a good withdrawal demand for refined, probably influenced by the warmer weather, but no new business was reported. Prices were unchanged at 5.00 for the granulated.

Rubber.
New York, May 15.—Rubber futures close—barely steady; May 22.00; July 22.50;
September 22.80.
Spot smoked ribbed 22½.

This is a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. A vertical crease is visible near the right edge, suggesting it was once folded. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

New York, May 15.—American Can opened strong and active, advancing 2 3/4 points in the early trading, Packard opening up 3 points and advancing another 3, General Electric advancing another 6 points on top of the week's sensational gains.

The rest of the market, while showing smaller gains, also ignored the detailed report of the committee on recent economic changes warning against waste of natural resources, transfer of credit in quantity from production to speculation, and artificial price advancement.

When call money at the end of the first hour of the stock market opened firm at 10 per cent the stock market slowed down. There was some selling early in the day but stocks held remarkably strong despite a further advance in the call money rate to 15 per cent in the third hour and to 15 per cent in the last hour, with time money unchanged, 9 per cent for 30 to 60 days and 8 3/4 for longer periods.

Wall Street judges the condition of the money market more by time than call money.

Colonel Ayers, of the Cleveland Trust Company, also issued a warning today, declaring that the steady increase in the rate of bank credit in this country the last five years above a growing disproportion between the extent of our gold base and the size of the credit structure built on this gold base.

He points out that in 1924 there was $10 of credit for each dollar of gold; that since then there has been a steady decline until the end of 1928 showed only $7, with the figure now lower and the rate of inflation the inflation period of 1920.

Production Cut.
Holders of copper shares were surprised by a statement from Anaconda that production in Montana and the Chile and Andes South American mines would be reduced 10 per cent at once. It was admitted that this action was based on the April copper figures just made public showing that the supply of copper was running ahead of consumption.

Anaconda says it will be three months before this curtailment of production is felt in refined stocks and the hope is expressed that in the meantime increased demand will make possible resumed production at the recent figure.

No information could be had as to whether other large copper producers will follow Anaconda but Wall Street feels that they will in view of the existing close understanding in the copper industry and also the admission by Anaconda that for the time being anyway demand has been satisfied. Let us copper buyers predicted today that within the next couple of months copper metal would drop to 16 cents. Whether it will in the face of curbed production remains to be seen.

Twentieth Associated Oil shows for the March quarter a surplus for dividends of $1,613,000 against $2,071,000 a year ago and a surplus over the preferred dividend of $517,000 against $580,000.

Declares Dividend.
Sinclair declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents and 25 cents extra. Dividends were resumed three months after a lapse of five years.

Usually informed Wall Street oil men will not be surprised if an increase in Mid-Continent crude is announced late this week or early next week. In such quarters the belief was expressed that the industry is responsible for the proposed advance in crude oil prices.

There are good reasons for believing that it will only be a question of time before the leadership of the industry will become the hands of the commission which will be Washington. It is expected that the committee will be made up of men to cut production of a large sum of money and much ability if desired results are to be obtained. This job would be done by the committee by some close to its successor who for some time has been trained to take the place of the executive head of the industry.

Nothing much is heard these days about the efforts being made by large oil producers under the leadership of the American Petroleum Institute to reduce output of crude at least to the level of 1928.

For the week just reported the average production of crude was 2,624,000 barrels a day, a decrease of 5,100 barrels daily which is still 268,000 above a year ago but it is 78,000 below the peak made for the week ending March 2 of this year when the curtailment program was organized. Informed Wall Street expects curtailment of production to continue strengthening the position of the oil shares which are in a liquidated position.

Early demand and trading yesterday were only moderate. Freight receipts and supplies were lighter but not much heavier. The market remained about steady on most commodities. Beans were slightly weaker due to increased supplies by truck. The market on potatoes was firm, with prices on Alabama stock showing a slight advance. Demand on green corn was fairly good, with little change in price. The cabbage market was steady, with only moderate supplies. Demand on asparagus, peppers, and other crops was light, with the market dull.
